CAR CRASH; REPORT 10 DEAD

THE WEATHER

Fair tonight and Sunday; moderate west to northwest winds.
Sun rises 4:56; sets 6:50.
Moon sets 3:27 a. m.
High tide 9:55 a. m.; 10:17 p. m.
Temperatures till 1 p. m.: Maximum, 83 at 1 p. m.; minimum, 63 at 1 a. m.; average, 73. Temperature at 1 p. m., 83.

BOSTON AMERICAN

NEW ENGLAND'S GREATEST HOME NEWSPAPER

Circulation Greater Than All the Other Boston Evening Papers Combined

10 P. M. EXTRA

VOL. 13—No. 144.

Copyright 1916, by H. E. Newspaper Pub. Co.

BOSTON, SATURDAY, AUGUST 12, 1916.

Registered in U. S. Patent Office

PRICE ONE CENT.

Ex-Governor Walsh Quits Race for Senate

CLERGYMAN ACCUSES POLICE

Swears He Saw Helpless Man Brutally Beaten

STRIVE TO AVERT STRIKE

By International News Service.

New York, Aug. 12.—At a meeting today of delegates representing the four organizations of railroad employes, it was decided to hold another conference tomorrow morning with the Federal Board of Mediation and Conciliation in a final effort to establish a basis of settlement and avert a strike.

After the meeting A. B. Garretson, head of the Order of Railway Conductors, gave out this statement:

"The board of mediation told us their efforts to bring about a settlement by mediation had failed.

"We were asked if we would arbitrate, and we did not answer.

"We shall meet with the Federal board tomorrow morning, when we shall give our answer, probably.

"It is now for the board, acting under the Newlands act, to bring about a settlement by arbitration."

The members of the Federal Board of Mediation and Conciliation talked with the President over the long distance telephone before they went into session with representatives of the brotherhoods. It is understood that the President was informed that the situation was very serious.

At the meeting between the Board of Mediation and Conciliation and the representatives of the men's organizations the latter were told by Judge Martin A. Knapp, chairman of the board, that there was no hope for mediation, and a proposal for arbitration was outlined.

Judge Knapp afterwards gave out this statement:

"After two days of repeated efforts we told the railroad men that there was no hope of a settlement by mediation. We outlined a plan for settlement by arbitration."

Plans were made for the members of the federal board to get in touch with President Wilson to acquaint him with the fresh developments.

FITZ MAY RE-ENTER FIELD

David I. Walsh formally announced today that he will not be a candidate for the Democratic nomination for United States Senator. That the former Governor would take this stand has been predicted ever since his return from the Orient and his conferences with Democrats here.

Former Mayor John F. Fitzgerald, who had been mentioned for the senatorial nomination, announced the other day that he was not a candidate. He said he made that statement so as not to embarass Mr. Walsh in his decision.

Since the former Governor has withdrawn, it is thought probable that Fitzgerald will re-enter the field.

Unless he does so, the only avowed candidate is former Congressman Joseph F. O'Connell. Walsh, it has been said, was favorable to the O'Connell candidacy.

The statement from Former Governor Walsh follows:

On the morning after my return to Massachusetts the press of the Commonwealth announced that I would not be a candidate for the United States Senate nomination. In my conversation with the chairman of the Democratic State Committee, the first person with whom I talked about local politics, I informed him of this fact. However, that there may be no doubt as to my position I desire to publicly announce that I shall not be a candidate for the Democratic nomination for the United States Senate.

For five successive years I have been a candidate for public office and, to be frank, have not the heart to again make a State-wide campaign and be obliged to beg financial aid and support from the friends who have so generously supported me year after year.

Good Men Wanted

There is a position in New England for every man who wants one and is not afraid of work.

RABBI BELIEVES EXAMPLE SHOULD BE MADE OF SOKOL ASSAILANTS

Rabbi Rabinovitz, a patriarchal clergyman from France, is outspoken in his condemnation of the action of the police in beating David Sokol. He said he was interested in the case from a humanitarian viewpoint. He felt the police commissioner ought to make an example of policemen who show brutality to citizens in their own homes.

Arthur G. McVey, brother of John R. McVey, the candidate for the Democratic nomination for Governor, was summoned by Attorney William R. Scharton to listen to Rabbi Rabinovitz's deposition being read and to sign it as a notary public. The deposition reads:

"I, Rev. Isaac Rabinovitz, being duly sworn, depose and say that I was passing by Staniford street August 10, between 3 and 4 p. m. I heard a woman scream. I went into the house. I saw a man whom I never met or saw before on the floor; I also saw two officers, one of whom was sitting on the man and the other beating him with a club over the head and body. I heard a number of persons pleading with the officer not to strike the man because he appeared to be helpless; the officer, however, continued to beat him until several other officers entered and pulled the officer who was doing the beating away from the helpless man on the floor.

"I personally appealed to the officer, whom I now know to be Officer Donnelly, not to strike the man any more, but he looked at me and said: 'Get out, you Jew. It is none of your business.' During the time that the officers were beating the man on the floor, whom I now know to be Sokol, I did not hear Sokol say a word and he appeared to be unconscious.

"I have lived in Paris for fifteen years and never saw such inhumane treatment perpetrated upon any citizen of France as I witnessed Sokol undergo at the hands of the officers. I have never seen anything to resemble it in this country. I make this statement voluntarily and solely in the cause of justice.

"Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

"Suffolk, ss. August 11, 1916.

"Then personally appeared before me the above-named Rev. Isaac Rabinovitz and made oath that the above statement by him subscribed is true.

"Before me,

"ARTHUR G. McVEY,
"Notary Public."

SOKOL TO PRESS ASSAULT CHARGE

The Rev. Isaac Rabinovitz, a clergyman, who witnessed the manhandling of David Sokol by Patrolmen Donnelly and Morgan in Sokol's West End home, in an affidavit made public today flatly accuses the policemen of clubbing a helpless and unconscious man.

In his affidavit he says he saw Sokol on the floor, and that one of the policemen was sitting on him while the other was beating him over the head and body.

He said the policeman continued to beat the unconscious man on the floor till other policemen entered and pulled him away.

Mrs. Sokol in her statement says that one of the patrolmen beating Sokol cried:

"We've got you now. I've wanted to do this for a long time."

Sokol was recently the chief witness in a case in which he charged that money was extorted from him by a West End man who claimed to be able to furnish police protection. Sokol named two police officers in his testimony. Now Sokol is in the City Hospital with three broken ribs and other injuries.

Even Captain Peabody of Joy street, commanding officer of the two patrolmen, refused today to make any statement in their defence or in criticism of them.

Relatives and friends of Sokol declared police vengeance today in demanding that the two officers be brought before a police trial board for their act.

The return of Police Commissioner O'Meara was awaited before the next move in the case.

The patrolmen claimed that they had to batter Sokol into unconsciousness in self-defence; but William H. Scharton, attorney for Sokol, pointed out that policemen are trained manhandlers; that the first thing they are taught is the art of handling resisting men, and that two officers who between them weighed over four hundred pounds should have been able to overcome a man who weighs only 165 without clubbing him to the point of death.

Patrolman Donnelly claimed that Sokol kicked him in the groin, thus

Continued on Page 4, Column 1.

To Pay $150,000 for Quarantine Station Here

By International News Service.

Washington, Aug. 12.—Mayor Curley of Boston and Assistant Secretary of the Treasury Newton today agreed on the terms of a contract by which the Federal government will purchase from Boston the Boston quarantine station for $150,000.

The contract must be ratified by the Boston City Council before it is effective.

REPORT CARRANZA HELD PRISONER

El Paso, Aug. 12.—Private advices have reached here from Mexico City that First Chief Carranza has been imprisoned in the Capitol.

No details were given, and neither the Mexican consulate here nor General Gonzales in Juarez has received any information of it.

Washington, Aug. 12.—Ambassador Designate Arredondo of Mexico today received an official denial from Mexico City of the report from El Paso that First Chief Carranza had been imprisoned in his capitol.

GERMANS PUSHED ON 5 FRONTS, RUSSIANS ENVELOPING HALICZ

By International News Service.

London, Aug. 12.—The supreme efforts of the allies to tighten the circle of steel which has been forged around the armies of the central powers and those of their allies is now in full swing for the first time since the war began two years ago.

With the opening of the drive against the Bulgarians in Macedonia the allies are now upon the offensive in the five theatres of war.

From every front steady progress is reported for the armies of England, France, Russia and Italy.

Fighting is in progress over battle lines nearly 2,000 miles in length.

RUSSIANS PRESS ON.

In the eastern theatre the Russians are rolling forward in Galicia, crushing out Austro-German resistance wherever it is attempted. Following the fall of Stanislau the Russians are again driving northward in the direction of Lemberg, and it is believed that the important fortified Galician city of Halicz has either been captured by the Russians or is on the point of falling into their hands.

Driving in the direction of Trieste, A report from Rome states that the fall of Tolmino is imminent. With the capture of this fortified position by the Italians, the Austro-Hungarian line on the Isonzo will have been shattered entirely.

STRIKE IN BALKANS.

In the Balkans the allies have finally struck and advices from Athens and Salonica indicate that the engagement is extending over a broad front with the Bulgarian positions under artillery fire and the pressure of infantry attacks.

Approximately three-quarters of a million men under General Sarrail are attacking the Bulgarians. The capture of Doiran station and Hill 227

Continued on Page 2, Column 1.

Today's Lineup

First Game.

BROOKLYN.	BRAVES.
Johnston, r.f.	Maranville, s.s.
McCarthy, 1b.	Egan, 2b.
Wheat, l.f.	Wilhoit, r.f.
Cutshaw, 2b.	Magee, l.f.

35,000 More Militia Going to the Border

By International News Service.

Washington, Aug. 12.—The War Department announced today that all militiamen in mobilization camps, totalling approximately 35,000 men, would be sent to the Mexican border immediately. Arrangements for their transportation have been made. Department officials said the organizations would not wait to be recruited to their full strength but that further recruiting would be made after departure of troops.

GERMAN PLANES BOMBARD DOVER

By International News Service.

London, Aug. 12.—The British port of Dover was raided at noon today by two German seaplanes that dropped four bombs. An officer and six men were wounded, but no damage of military importance was done. The War Office, in an official communication this afternoon, gave notice of this attack. Dover is a port of great military importance, as many of the Brit-

REPORT 10 TO 15 KILLED IN RAILWAY WRECK

Johnstown, Pa., Aug. 12.—From ten to fifteen persons are reported killed and forty to fifty others injured in a wreck at Echo Lake, on the Cambria Somerset line today. Two dead are Angus Varner and Tarry Bowers, motorman. An east-bound Ebensburg car crashed into the out-bound trolley, owing to failure of air brakes.

The cars came together head-on with terrific force and telescoped each other on a curve at the bottom of a grade. The accident is said to have occurred when the motorman on one of the cars lost control of his car and dashed past a switch and into a siding.

ALLIES TIGHTEN RING OF STEEL ABOUT THE ARMIES OF CENTRAL POWERS

FIGHTING ON BATTLE LINES OF 3,000 MILES

Continued from First Page.

places the allies in a position to menace Doiran proper, which is held by the Bulgars, and the capture of this city would open the way for an attack upon the Bulgar and Teuton troops on the Salonica railroad at Gievgeli.

In the Turkish theatre of war the Russians are keeping up a steady series of attacks although the Turks have lately been able to win some ground and force a retirement of the Russian force in Persia. In Armenia the Russians are continuing their advance, while beating off strong counter assaults.

Furious Balkan Battle Start of New Offensive

By International News Service.

London, Aug. 12.—A heavy battle is raging near the Greco-Serbian frontier with the allied troops from Salonica attacking the Bulgarians.

Already the allies have captured the station of Doiran and the highroad nearby. The attacks are believed here to be the preliminaries of a great offensive of the 300,000 men who have gathered at Salonica. The last ounce of pressure will be brought against the far-flung battlefronts of the Central Empires and their Balkan Allies.

The drive has a twofold purpose—to clear Serbia of the invaders and to bring Rumania into the war on the side of the entente.

With the allied steamroller underway in the Balkans, the last link in the great offensive on all fronts is completed. First news of the battle was received here in an official statement from Paris which announced the occupation of the Doiran station. A great artillery engagement is under way, according to a dispatch to the Central News.

SERBS IN DRIVE.

French, English and Serbians are taking part in the new campaign, according to word from the front. About 120,000 Serbians, constituting the reorganized army, are at the front.

A Central News dispatch from Athens says that General Sarrail has been appointed commander-in-chief of all the allied forces at Salonica. General Cordonnier has taken command of the French troops.

The importance attached in London to the new offensive is indicated in a long article written for the Daily Telegraph by Colonel Archibald Hurd-Hutt, who was official observer for the entire press of Britain during the operations on Gallipoli. He says:

"The Bulgarians, ever assisted by the remnants of the Turkish army, are not strong enough to resist an offensive from Salonika and at the same time hold off the pressure of half a million Rumanians from the North.

"I see no reason why Rumania should not throw pontoon bridges across the Danube in 1916. There may be some resistance, but under cover of her heavy artillery, the task should be fairly easy of accomplishment. Once the river is crossed, there is no formidable position between the river and Sofia, which could not be easily turned.

NEUTRALITY FORCED.

In 1915 Rumania had neutrality forced on her by the great German drive which cleared the Russians out of Galicia and Bukowina and brought their victorious armies to her northern frontier. She could not afford to risk an attack on Bulgaria with her northern and western frontiers thus threatened. Therefore she continued her waiting policy.

But this consideration no longer exists.

The first important move is to separate Bulgaria and Turkey from all communication with the Central Powers. This can only be accomplished by clearing the enemy out of Serbia and regaining possession of the Orient railway.

With Nish in our possession the communication now open between Berlin, Vienna, Belgrade, Sofia and Constantinople, will be cut and with the Danube patrolled by gunboats, not a single munitions cartridge can reach the Bulgarians and Turks, who must then rely on their own feeble resources.

Once Nish is in our possession the Anglo-French army can turn its attention to an invasion of Bulgaria. When Bulgaria falls she has been abandoned to her fate by Germany and Austria, she faces absolute ruin, which means disappearance from the map as an independent nation, or else she must endeavor to save something from the general wreck by coming to terms as speedily as possible.

NATION MAY COLLAPSE.

The collapse of Bulgaria means the collapse of Turkey. The last stand of the Turks in Europe must be made at two points, the lines of Chatalja and the lines of Bulair. But by retiring on Chatalja, they must leave the army on Gallipoli isolated.

Once Gallipoli falls and we command the straits and the longest line for sea route to Constantinople, we could send the Mediterranean fleet to Constantinople, together with transports, and thus turn the lines of Chatalja.

At the same time it must be remembered that once our fleet is in the sea of Marmora, it can vitally assist the army attacking Tachaldja by enfilading the whole left wing of the Turkish positions from the bay of Biyukchekmejo. The days of the Turk are certainly numbered.

British Repulse German Attacks

By SIDNEY B. CAVE.

International News Service Staff Correspondent.

London, Aug. 12.—Continuous fighting is in progress in the district north of Pozieres, on the Somme front, where the British are at grips with the Germans.

The Germans assaulted the new positions of the British in that region last night, the War Office announced today, but the attack was repulsed.

Elsewhere the official report states the position on the British front is unchanged.

For many nights and days there has been great activity in the zone of operations flanking the Albert-Bapaume highway, north of Pozieres.

The Germans, alarmed by the loss of trenches on the Pozieres high ridge, have been making desperate counter attacks, but these have all proved failures. Not only were they repulsed, but the British have advanced their lines still farther, principally by the use of bombs.

The War Office statement follows:

"The enemy has renewed his efforts to recapture trenches lately taken by us on the high ground between Pozieres, delivering a strong infantry attack yesterday evening, support d by heavy artillery fire. The attack was repulsed with heavy loss for the enemy and at no point did he succeed in piercing our positions.

"Elsewhere the British front is unchanged."

German Assaults in Somme Futile

By CHARLES P. BERTELLI.

International News Service Staff Correspondent.

Paris, Aug. 12.—Futile attempts were made by the Germans last night to recapture from the French some of the ground lost on the Somme front.

Not only were the counter attacks of the Germans beaten off, but a dispatch states that a French reconnaisance north of the Somme River penetrated the German position in Hem wood.

North of Hem wood the Germans, after cannonading the French troops, delivered an assault, but it was repulsed.

South of the river the Germans attacked at Maisonette, but there also they were unable to make headway against the barrage fire of the French artillery and the gusts from the machine guns.

PROGRESS IN FLEURY.

On the Verdun front, the official communique says, the French made some progress and also repelled two German attacks. This fighting all took place on the right bank of the Meuse.

The French advance was scored in the sector of Thiaumont work.

At Fleury the Germans assaulted the French lines, but were driven back.

The text of the official communique follows:

"North of the Somme four troops took advantage of the night to organize their new front. Our reconnoitering parties penetrated the wood east of Hem station. They found many dead Germans. At 9 p. m. the Germans attempted a vigorous counter attack upon the quarry north of Hem wood, which was captured by us yesterday. Their attack was shattered by our fire. It cost them appreciable losses.

"South of the Somme, after a violent bombardment, the enemy launched an attack against Dompierre. Our curtain of fire was directed upon the assaulting waves, which were compelled to withdraw immediately into their own trenches.

PROGRESS IN NIGHT.

"On the right bank of the Meuse we made progress during the night in the region south of the Thiaumont work. In the region of Fleury two German attacks, one launched at 8 p. m., the other at 3 a. m., upon our trenches in the village and our positions to the northwest thereof, were completely repulsed.

"The artillery duel continues very violently in the sector of Vaux-Chapitre and Lechenois.

"Northwest of St. Mihiel in Lorraine, near Pelee, German patrols were met with rifle fire and were dispersed, leaving their dead on the ground."

LETIMBRO FIRED ON SUBMARINE

Amsterdam, Aug. 12.—A semi-official account of the sinking by a submarine recently of the Italian mail steamship Letimbro from Vienna says the Italians fired on the submarine with two guns, and that they were troops on board. The statement says:

"After the submarine had fired a warning shot at a distance of 5,000 metres, the vessel opened fire from two guns at the stern, and attempted to escape by zig-zagging. The submarine pursued the steamship, replying to the fire without hitting the vessel, which had shown no flag.

"Later boats were lowered from the steamer. After ascertaining that no one remained on board, the steamship was sunk by the submarine.

"Approaching the boats, the submarine ascertained that of the thirty persons in one boat twenty were Jewish, which confirmed the suspicion of the submarine commander that he had before him a vessel with troops aboard."

AMBASSADOR SHARP TO ARRIVE AUG. 21

Elyria, Ohio, Aug. 12.—Ambassador to France William G. Sharp will arrive in New York August 21 for a two months' stay in the United States, most of which will be spent at his home in this city recuperating from a recent severe illness, which has covered a period of three months.

WAR SUMMARY

The Russian and Italian fronts continued to hold chief interest in the war news today.

On the Russian front the Russians captured Stanislau. It was not defended by the Austrians, the positions south of the town having been forced. The Austrians withdrew on their positions at Halicz and along the Dneister.

With relation to Lemberg the Russian lines now run thus: East and slightly to the north, they are just under sixty miles from Lemberg. The line runs almost due south, getting further and further away, till it comes to the Dneister, where it turns westward to Stanislau. Stanislau is in a straight line over sixty miles from Lemberg.

The Dneister runs from northwest to southeast, passing through Halicz, due north of Stanislau. On the southwestern bank of the river scores of streams, large and small, must be crossed by an advancing army. These streams form a strong natural barrier northwest of Stanislau. The Dneister itself, a tremendous problem, bars the way to the north and northeast, and Halicz is the key to the defences here. Halicz must be taken before the advance can acquire momentum. Until that falls Lemberg is in no immediate danger from the southeast.

The Italians, advancing beyond Gorizia, have cleared several positions on the Doberdo plateau, bringing them up to the first line of Austrian defence behind Gorizia.

It may safely be assumed that the Italian offensive will pause here for a time, till artillery can be brought up for a new attack. Trieste itself is in no more immediate danger than Lemberg.

Unofficial reports of activity in the Balkans, north of Salonica, were not confirmed today by the official reports, so that for the present they are probably false.

The British officially report continued activities by the Turks in the Suez region, and admit retirement of a part of their forces before a flanking attack.

The French report futile German attacks in Picardy and at Verdun. The British have seen little fighting of importance in Picardy for some days.

In Persia the Turks continue to thrust back the Russians. Their drive is tending northward, but a long advance is necessary before their forces will seriously imperil the safety of the Russian force in the Caucasus.

GREAT ARMIES FIGHTING FOR TOLMINO

By CAMILLO CIANFARRA.

International News Service Staff Correspondent.

Rome, Aug. 12.—A great battle has developed around Tolmino (Tolmein) and the capture of the city by the Italians is believed to be imminent.

Tolmino was one of the chief positions of the Austro-Hungarian forces on the Isonzo front. The city, which was strongly fortified by the Teutons, lies nearly twenty miles north of Gorizia on the Isonzo River. It is on a railroad and important highways converge there. Ranges of hills to the north and south of the city, dominating the river, gave the Austro-Hungarians natural defensive works.

ITALIANS ADVANCE.

While the right wing of the Italian armies operating on the Isonzo front has been occupying the Doberdo plateau and driving the Austro-Germans from their positions on that high ground, the left wing has been advancing victoriously against formidable positions between Caporetto and Selo, which lie north and south of Tolmino.

While the third Italian army under the Duke of Aosta is pushing on east of Gorizia, the Austro-Hungarians are trying to reform their ranks. The rear guard actions that have been precipitated by the Teutons have all resulted in favor of the victorious Italians.

It is reported that the Austrians are preparing to evacuate Trieste.

The entire Doberdo plateau is now in the possession of Italy, according to official dispatches from Rome, as well as the towns of Rubbia and San Martino del Carso.

RENEW DEMAND FOR ACTION ON BLACKLIST

By JOHN EDWIN NEVIN.

International News Service Staff Correspondent.

Washington, Aug. 12.—The demand that the President be given authority to retaliate against foreign countries which discriminate against American goods and merchants received renewed impetus today.

Letters and telegrams reciting various alleged discriminations reached the State Department simultaneously with the London announcement by Lord Robert Cecil that the Anglo-French blacklist and boycott is to be continued.

As a result congressional leaders were watching carefully developments.

The suggestion has been made that a resolution giving the President authority to withhold as a rider on one of the appropriation bills to be passed and the party leaders are carefully looking up precedents to determine whether such a plan is feasible. Definite action, however, will be deferred until all available information can be compiled by the State Department and referred to Congress.

The ruling of maximum prices for commodities in general use is to be a weapon of several of the principal European nations which want to crowd American-made products out of many markets, according to information supplied the Department of Commerce by its commercial agents abroad. Whether the step is being taken by each country because of domestic conditions, or whether it has been prompted by Great Britain, has not yet definitely been ascertained.

"We suspect that the whole thing is a part of England's trade grabbing policy and that she has induced her allies to co-operate with her," said one official of the department today in announcing the existence of this new situation.

"The motive apparently is to prevent the United States from becoming too powerful in the European market."

Allies to Refuse to Lift Boycott

London, Aug. 12—"Personally, I cannot see any way by which we can forego our undoubted right to prevent our subjects from providing resources of trade to our enemies," said Lord Robert Cecil, Minister of War Trade, in discussing with American newspaper correspondents the latest developments in Great Britain's economic warfare.

"There is not likely to be any change in the policy of the allies as a result of neutral protests," he continued. "Italy by her action in announcing a blacklist is merely following the policy outlined at the Paris conference."

Lord Robert confirmed reports published in financial circles that outstanding contracts of British insurance companies with firms on the British blacklist will not be interfered with by the government.

Discussing relations with Sweden, the War Trade Minister called attention to the exchange of notes between Great Britain and Sweden, which correspondence is ready to be laid on the table of the House of Commons. He pointed out that one note dispatched by the Foreign Office to the Swedish government claimed that both the Swedish government and the German government admitted that The Hague convention of 1907, concerning mail rights was inoperative in the present war because it had not been ratified by all the nations attending the conference.

Lord Robert said there had been no change in the policy of Great Britain regarding the Netherlands Overseas Trust.

"I do not know the facts on which American shippers are basing their complaints," he said, "but I assure you that we have not changed our attitude toward the trust. I can explain, however, a possible detention on the clause of the agreement which specifies that the government has a right to detain any trust consignment until doubt as to its destination has been satisfactorily explained."

American shippers to Holland are bombarding the British government with protests because of the detention of cargoes consigned to the Netherlands Overseas Trust. It is understood here that their protest may be supported by diplomatic action at Washington.

In the last two months between thirty-five and forty consignments to the Netherlands Overseas Trust have been held up, some in bonded warehouses in Holland, awaiting action, while others have actually been placed in the prize court. American shippers complain that the British government has not adhered to its pledge, and it is

TURKS DRIVE BRITISH AT SUEZ BACK

London, Aug. 12.—Fighting between the British and Turkish forces in Egypt east of the Suez canal continues, with no important success for either side, according to an official statement. Turkish counter-attacks caused British cavalry to fall back, but the Turks later retired to their entrenchments.

British guns shelled large stacks of stores and convoys at a distance of only 2,000 yards, the Turks replying to this bombardment with what are reported to be six-inch howitzers.

The enemy's strength is estimated at about 6,000 men, including a fresh regiment which was not engaged in the action at Romani.

BRITISH HOLD UP SWEDISH STEAMER

By International News Service.

Berlin, via Sayville, Aug. 12.—The Swedish steamer Stockholm, bound from the United States for Goetehorg, was detained at Liverpool several weeks and has now arrived at its destination. The British took from the steamer 900 tons of lead consigned to the Swedish government, and 350 tons of leather destined for the Swedish army.

Declares Italian Victories Spell Austria's Doom

By CAPT. CECIL BATTINE.

Special to International News Service and London Daily Telegraph.

London, Aug. 12.

The Austrian stronghold, Gorizia, has become an advance base for the Italian forces to strike at Trieste, the principal commercial port of the Dual Empire, and at the same stroke the Austrian army was diminished by an army corps in killed, wounded and prisoners.

The cumulative effect of so many great disasters after two years of sanguinary fighting is dangerous to the very existence of the Austrian State, and if their progress continues, must detach the dual monarchy from the German alliance.

BRITISH ADMIT CENSORING U. S. NEWS

London, Aug. 12.—The protest of American newspaper correspondents in Germany against censorship of their dispatches by British officials, presented to the Foreign Office by Irwin B. Laughlin, secretary of the American embassy, brought the admission from Lord Cecil, War Trade Minister, that the British are censoring all messages from Teutonic points.

Lord Cecil said the censoring was done for "military reasons," from the standard of what harm publication of the facts in the messages might do to the cause of the allies.

PROTEST HOLDUP OF SHIPS BY BRITAIN

London, Aug. 12.—American shippers to Holland are bombarding the British government with protests as a result of detentions of cargoes consigned to The Netherlands Overseas Trust. It is understood here the protests may be backed by diplomatic action at Washington.

SPECIAL NOTICE.

BELL-ANS

Absolutely Removes Indigestion. One package proves it. 25c at all druggists.

APPRECIATION

TO THE RETAIL DEALERS AND THEIR ASSISTANTS IN GREATER BOSTON:

As you know, our team and auto salesmen who cover Greater Boston—Mr. E. L. Parker, Mr. James H. Gordon, Mr. William P. Wier, Mr. Ira L. Adams and Mr. Charles E. Norton—compete strenuously with one another in regard to the sale and delivery of MOXIE. We are unable to announce the winner of the year until the close of the season. We feel safe in announcing the winner for the biggest day.

On August 4th, Mr. Charles E. Norton, who covers the route including Revere Beach, delivered on that day Nine Hundred and Eighty-six (986) cases. This beats the best previous daily record for Boston salesmen, of any one day, by One Hundred and Seveaty-one (171) cases, or more than four 1-ton truck loads.

The Nine Hundred and Eighty-six (986) cases were a full load for twenty-four 1-ton trucks.

At the family price, the amount of Moxie delivered by Mr. Norton on that day would amount to Two Thousand Four Hundred and Sixty-five dollars ($2465.00).

The total weight would have been Forty-nine Thousand Three Hundred (49,300) pounds.

The total number of quart size bottles would have been Eleven Thousand Eight Hundred and Thirty-two (11,832).

The number of glasses of Moxie in this number of cases would have been Sixty-five Thousand and Seventy-six (65,076).

You will therefore appreciate that that was some strenuous day.

Naturally we think that our salesmen are the best on earth, and there are not any more enthusiastic or loyal salesmen to be found.

We appreciate that the thousands of retail dealers and their assistants, to whom our salesmen cater in Greater Boston, by their many courtesies to them and to us, contribute very largely to their and our success, and we desire to extend to them publicly our greatest appreciation, and trust to ever maintain their highest respect, which we assure them we will do, if it is within our power. More than thirty years of square dealing should be a guarantee of that.

We wish we could reach every one of our dealers personally, and thank them, but this is impossible. We were able to personally extend this to our salesmen, but we felt that we could not reach you in any other way except in this manner.

Of course, this had to do with only Greater Boston, and was for only one day; it has nothing to do with the year, and also is not to be confused with our immense increase throughout the country this year, over a

U. S. SPIES BLAMED BY SMITH

Joseph Smith of Lowell, who went to England with Thomas H. Kelly of New York, and Mrs. Kelly, with funds for the relief of destitute folk in Ireland, and who after eleven days' detention in England were deported to this country, arriving yesterday, returned to his home in Lowell today.

In informal discussion of the treatment of the party in England, he said that their detention was evidently the result of the work of spies in this country, that they were gratuitously insulted, and under such circumstances that the insults were an obviously intentional affront to the United States.

"When you were having those shark raids over here," he said, "the English were asking why Wilson did not write a note about it.

CIVIL LIBERTY DEAD.

"Civil liberty is dead there. A parliament as long as that in the days of Cromwell is in prospect. The average Englishman is kept in the dark about the war; he knows no more about it than the guttersnipes here.

"The nation is full of graft, 5,200 men being employed in the office of the Liverpool censor alone.

"Zeppelin raids have done great damage, thus far well concealed. Hull was particularly hard hit, and almost destroyed by the successive raids."

A formal statement describing in detail the treatment accorded the party, was issued in New York. It read as follows:

"Messrs. Thomas H. Kelly of New York and Joseph Smith of Lowell, Mass., sailed from New York on the American line steamship Philadelphia for Liverpool, for the purpose of distributing the Irish relief fund in Ireland. They were provided with American passports issued by the State Department and vised by the British Consul-General in New York.

HAD INFORMATION.

"Before the issue of the passports, Mr. George Gillespie of New York, attorney for Mr. Kelly and chairman of the executive committee of the Irish Relief Fund, was placed in possession of brief biography of Messrs. Kelly and Smith for the information and guidance of the State Department, and he had several telephonic interviews with Mr. Polk, counsellor of the State Department, and advised him of the purpose of the visit of Messrs. Kelly and Smith to Ireland, and their character and reputation had been discussed by him with the British Ambassador in Washington, apparently in a manner satisfactory to all concerned.

"The party sailed from New York, July 15 and arrived in Liverpool, July 24. The Philadelphia was berthed in the Canada dock and the passengers were assembled in the dining saloon for examination before debarkation.

"Mr. and Mrs. Kelly and Mr. Smith were called after a time by numbers given (132-133-134) and invited to a corner of the dining saloon, where their passports and papers were demanded and given over to Mr. E. N. Cooper, alien's officer. Messrs. Kelly and Smith were then taken to their cabins by detectives and subjected to personal search of the grossest character; their pockets emptied, pocketbooks opened, all papers, cards, letters, notebooks, etc., scrutinized and read, and their arms, legs and body felt, to ascertain if anything was concealed about their person.

"It was the sort of examination

American Envoys Who Were Deported by the British Government

© INTERNATIONAL FILM SERVICE.

Joseph Smith (at left) and Thomas H. Kelly, who were deported by the English when they tried to carry money to the relief of Ireland.

forms filled in pencil and signed by E. M. Cooper stating that we were refused permission to land under 'instructions from the Secretary of State.' They were handed to us by Cooper.

PREMEDITATED INSULT.

"Inasmuch as these instructions had been issued some four days prior to our arrival in port and were in Cooper's possession two days before we reached Liverpool, the ordeal we were subjected to on the ship—the search of our persons and baggage and the humiliating examination by the officials—was a deliberate, coldly calculated and premeditated insult and humiliation, made all the more intolerable since it took place on board an American ship at whose flagstaff the American flag was flying.

"The incident proves the existence on American soil of an active system of British espionage, since the questions in many ways showed a knowledge of activities, harmless under any government, and entirely proper and lawful under ours, that could only have been gathered and sent to London by agents and spies anxious to magnify the importance and distort the significance of the data collected and to misrepresent and discredit those who are engaged in work antipathetic to some policy temporarily popular and of-

THINK POISONED SOUP KILLED DR. MURPHY

By International News Service.

Chicago, Aug. 12.—Dr. John B. Murphy, world-renowned surgeon and benefactor of mankind, is dead at Mackinac Island, Michigan.

It is believed by many of his friends that Dr. Murphy's death was due in a measure to the poisoned soup partakes at the banquet to Archbishop Mundelein last Winter.

Dr. Murphy, accompanied by Mrs. Murphy, Dr. L. L. McArthur, and Dr. James E. Keefe, went to Mackinac Island last Monday. He had complained of the heat, and sought relief at the Northern Island. He had been suffering from heart disease for many months.

A telephone message from Dr. McArthur said that Dr. Murphy's condi-

3000 GIRLS LURED TO SLAVERY

New York, Aug. 12.—The peril of school girls from white slave dealers was outlined in a supplementary confession to Assistant District Attorney Smith by Yushe Botwin, head of the white slave traffic in New York.

According to Botwin in the last ten years here at least 3,000 school girls have been lured from their homes and delivered at a fixed price to keepers of disorderly resorts. Many of these girls have been reported as missing at police headquarters, but few have ever been found by the police and returned to their homes.

Botwin alleges he and others have kept watch on the public schools and have had women as aides in picking out girls of the type desired in the white slave traffic.

Girls about sixteen years of age, fresh from the class-room, Botwin alleges, bring the highest price in the white slave market. Dive-keepers have paid as high as $500 for this type of girl and the white slaver received a commission of 10 per cent. on their earnings.

HOW GIRLS ARE TRAPPED.

Botwin said that before a schoolgirl is approached, a study is made of her home life. No girl is taken from a home which had ordinary comforts, as in such cases there would be an alarm which might cause trouble. Girls are selected from the homes of the poor. Usually the parents are foreign born and not posted in the laws and customs of this country. Yet they make sacrifices that their children may be educated.

The informer said that the school girl who is selected as a victim is first tempted with small presents of candy or jewelry. This is kept up until a friendly feeling is developed between the white slaver, or his agents, and the girl. The next step is a ride in an automobile to Coney Island or some other nearby resort. Few girls, raised in poverty, will refuse to take a joy ride, according to Botwin. Then comes an invitation to a theatre, followed by a dinner at some glittering restaurant. Then follows ruin and the auction block in the white slave market.

FORCED TO WRITE.

Schoolgirls, Botwin alleges, when securely in the clutches of the white slaver, are taken from the city, sometimes as far away as Pittsburgh. According to the schems for protection to the white slavers, girls, when taken away, are often forced to write letters to their parents or relatives stating that they have eloped and are happy.

Their identity is lost by a change in name, and after several months' absence the girl, under an assumed name, is brought back to New York and becomes an inmate of some disorderly resort.

GIVES UP PACKAGE DELIVERY SERVICE

New York, Aug. 12.—The Western Union Telegraph Company has notified its customers that its national distribution service for the delivery of packages will be transferred to another corporation September 1 and thereafter its messengers will collect and deliver telegrams only.

It is understood that the package deliveries will be made by motor trucks operating from a central station in the larger cities.

A shortage of boys to act as messengers has necessitated the change.

SEEKS LICENSE TO

MAN SHOT BY POLICE IN CHASE

John McCarthy twenty-eight, was shot in the right shoulder early today in an exciting chase through the streets of the South End, when patrolmen of the East Dedham street station fired five shots in an effort to capture three fugitives.

Two of the men escaped and the police believe one of the fugitives was wounded by a bullet from the police revolvers.

McCarthy will be arraigned in court charged with breaking and entering, and with stealing $16 from John S. Fitzgerald.

The chase led from Worcester street to Tremont to Massachusetts avenue to Shawmut avenue and back to Worcester street.

The police allege that three men entered the room of Fitzgerald and after robbing him of $16 filled his trousers pockets with marbles.

The police searched the district for several hours after the shooting, but no trace of the missing men could be found.

For several weeks the police of the South End have been on the lookout for sneak thieves. Early today Patrolman Mellor in plain clothes, with Sergeant Livingston and Patrolman Robert Chalmers, was on duty.

Chalmers was hiding in a doorway on Worcester street when he saw three men emerge from a house.

Chalmers ordered the men to stop but they began running. Chalmers drew his revolver and fired. As they ran through Worcester street they then separated and Chalmers fired again.

Chalmers was joined by Sergeant Livingston and Patrolman Mellor, who gave chase to the fugitives. All five shots were fired at the three men.

During the chase one shot went through the bedroom window of Mrs. Frances W. Purmont of Massachusetts avenue and she called the police and additional officers were sent to the district to aid in the search.

Patrolman Mellor chased McCarthy, and as the escaping man ran into Newland street with Mellor at his heels, the patrolman slipped on the wet sidewalk and fell. The plucky policeman, however, fired a shot which hit McCarthy in the right shoulder.

As Mellor approached McCarthy the injured man asked for assistance, and he was taken to the City Hospital, where it was found he was only suffering from a flesh wound, and on search $16 was found under his collar, and the police allege it was the money taken from the pocket of Fitzgerald.

FLEET RETURNS AFTER PRACTICE

Newport, R. I., Aug. 12.—The Atlantic fleet, which has been manoeuvring under simulated war conditions in the waters adjoining Long Island and Block Island sounds since Monday, returned here.

The fleet will put to sea again tonight to tackle a more extensive problem. In this affair a more exprohlem. In this affair the Atlantic fleet, with two destroyers, will be the attacking force; the Atlantic reserve fleet, with the other destroyers and submarines, being given the burden of defence.

PHONE OPERATORS

657 A Street, South Boston.

Mr. K. C. B., Dear Sir—Kindly say through your column whether your writings are taken from natural life. I have wagered in the affirmative. Yours truly, O. D.

MY DEAR OSTEND.
IT'S LIKE this.
IN THE first place.
YOU SHOULDN'T bet.
IT'S WICKED.
AND YOU might lose.
BUT HAVING bet.
YOU SHOW wisdom.
IN TELLING the judge.
HOW YOU bet.
IT HELPS him.
AND NOW.
IF YOU concede.
THAT A man.
IN MIDDLE age.
WHO HAS spent his years.
IN THE Far West.
WHERE THE sun comes up.
OVER MOUNTAIN peaks.
AND GOES down.
IN A golden glow.
IN THE Pacific.
WHO FOUND his joy.
WHERE MOUNTAIN streams.
WENT WHISPERING.
TO THE sea.
AND IN the Summer.
OFTENTIMES.
HAS MADE his bed.
WHATEVER SPOT.
HE HAPPENED on.
WHEN NIGHT time came.
AND LIVED this life.
THROUGH ALL the time.
FROM BOYHOOD.
UNTO MIDDLE age.
AND THEN rose up.
ONE FATEFUL day.
AND PACKED his trunk.
AND CAME away.
AND LANDED here.
WHERE SUBWAYS roar.
AND MILLIONS mill.
ALONG THE streets.
AND NOISE by day.
AND NOISE by night.
MAKE CONSTANT din.
AND FOUR close walls.
IMPRISON HIM.
WHEN HE would sleep.
IF YOU'LL concede.
THAT NOW he leads.
A NATURAL life.
THEN HE tells you
YOU WIN your bet.
FOR HE just writes.
OF WHAT he sees.
AND HAPPENINGS.
THAT COME to him.
EXCEPT.
SOMETIMES.
HE EATS too much.
AND DREAMS.
SOME CRAZY thing.
AND THEN gets up.
AND PUTS it down.
HE'S JUST the same.
AS OTHER folks.
EXCEPT HE'S had.
THE SELF-SAME wife.
FOR TWENTY years.
I THANK you.

NEW BABY PLAGUE CASES

Six more cases of infantile paralysis in the State came to light today. The most recent victims are Ella Faiella of Lime street, Adams; Edgal Boissoneault of Fall River, Lydia Desjardines of Billings street, Lowell; Paul Yeomans and Edward Lawless of Revere. One new case was reported in Boston.

These new cases bring Massachusetts' total up to 155 cases. Boston alone has three cases. A study of the figures shows that seventy-three cases in the State have developed since the first of August.

It was decided today that Dr. Allan J. McLaughlin would represent the Massachusetts State Health Commission at the National Conference of Federal and State Health Officials to be held at Washington next Wednesday and Thursday. The conference will be held under the auspices of the Federal Public Health Service.

Great Barrington, in the western part of the State, according to health officials, is quarantined. No minor children are allowed into the town. This is the first town to take this rigid step. They absolutely refuse to permit any children to enter the town.

Dr. E. R. Kelly, director of the department of communicable diseases of the State Board of Health, said in the absence of Dr. McLaughlin:

SEEK UNIFORM WORK.

"Dr. McLaughlin will recommend at this conference a uniformity in procedure in travel. Many of the States are now requiring certificates for the minor children desiring to pass through that State.

"In New York the health authorities are issuing these, but none of the States seem to agree upon the restrictions to be placed against children entering their border.

"I am informed that the town of Great Barrington has decided to forbid the entrance of children, regardless of whether they have certificates or not.

"Many Connecticut towns and cities are following that same rigid rule. In Massachusetts the power to quarantine is vested in local boards of health. That is, it is a matter of local option. We believe it should be that way."

In speaking of the opening of schools Dr. Kelly said: "In two or three localities the question of schools opening under these conditions is a matter to be considered earnestly and seriously. I refer to Adams, North Adams and Westfield. This matter will have to be gone over very carefully."

WEBSTER MAN STRICKEN.

The plague is not restricting itself to attacks on children. David Snow, twenty-four years old, of School street, Webster, is one of the persons above sixteen years of age who have been stricken by the disease.

Other recent paralysis victims are: Adams, Amelia Bryce, East Hoosac street, Fitchburg; William Berna, Dartmouth, child of Herold K. Wilson, Fern Dell, S. D. Hadley, William Slaby, West street; Edward Kucoyt, West street; Springfield, Thelma Russell, Caren street, Pauline B. McGirr, Pomona street; Westfield, Anna Taylor, Ashley street; Montague, Carl Jielson, Millers Falls; North Adams, Marion Whitman, Whitman street; Amesbury, Rosana Therien, Horton street; Lowell, Lydia Desjardin, Billings street.

A four-year-old boy living on Princeton street, Charlestown, was found suffering with the disease. He was taken to a Boston hospital, where he died. A child, three years of age, who lives on Lexington street,

BOY AT GROTON SCHOOL HEIR TO

'JEALOUSY' IS PLEA OF WIFE

DEMAND COMMISSIONER O'MEARA INVESTIGATE ATTACK ON WEST END MAN

POLICE CLAIM WOMEN AIDED SOKOL IN FIGHT

Continued from First Page.

starting the fight. Attorney Scharton asked Superintendent Crowley to have a physician examine Donnelly and see whether this was true. Crowley said that was "up to" Donnelly.

"I want to find out," Attorney Scharton said today, "whether Donnelly was really injured, as he says he was. A doctor is the man to determine such an issue. This is the reason why I want him examined."

Sokol is at the City Hospital. He is suffering from multiple injuries, which include the fracture of three ribs. He was removed from the Relief Hospital to the City Hospital.

CHARGES BRUTAL ASSAULT.

When the case of Sokol was heard in the Municipal Court, Attorney Scharton explained to Judge Murray that Sokol was at the City Hospital and could not appear in court for at least two weeks. Scharton said Sokol was brutally assaulted by Patrolmen Donnelly and Morgan, who, he alleged, rendered Sokol unconscious by holding him on the floor of a room in his house.

Mrs. Sokol, wife of the injured man, declared that after the two policemen had used their clubs and their fists on her husband and had almost beaten him to death, Patrolman Morgan said:

"We've been looking to get you and we've got you now. I've wanted to do this for a long time.

Policeman Donnelly said the trouble with Sokol was that he wanted to be "allowed to conduct a questionable house on my route, and I won't let him. So he is sore at me. Every time he sees me he calls me a 'Becker' or something of an insulting nature."

The police version of Sokol's case, as related in court, follows:

When the police found Sokol he was in his shirt sleeves. They asked him not to object to the arrest and it would be only a fine of $10 and he had better pay it and say nothing more about it.

SAY FIGHT FOLLOWED.

Sokol went after his coat, but the patrolmen watched him, following him into another room. Sokol, seeing the police following him, raised his foot and gave Donnelly a kick in the groin, breaking, as it is alleged, a few tendons.

This angered both patrolmen as they then knew a stiff fight would be put up. Sokol called out and a few women entered the scuffle with Hyman Sokol brandishing a big butcher's knife with which he cut the thumb of Donnelly and also inflicted a wound upon the hand of Morgan.

When the officers realized they would be obliged to use force to get their man, they pushed aside a cot. As Morgan was approaching Sokol, who had back of him a few women, Sokol gave Morgan a kick near the shoulder as he bent over to reach something on the floor.

Morgan got up and threw Sokol on the floor, falling heavily upon him. This stunned Sokol and brought him into subjection.

It was found that the fall of Morgan upon Sokol broke three of his ribs, which necessitated his going to the hospital.

The patrolmen told Judge Sullivan they were obliged to use force to get their prisoner. They claimed women did everything possible to defend Sokol.

Upon the evidence of the patrolmen, Judge Sullivan issued a warrant against Mrs. Fannie Sokol, wife of David Sokol, who, it is charged, attempted to rescue him while a prisoner, and against Hyman, son of David Sokol charging him with an attempt to kill Patrolmen Donnelly and Morgan.

Judge Sullivan said in court that it was upon the evidence of the patrolmen that these warrants were issued.

The case will come before either Judge Parmenter or Judge Murray Monday.

Patrolman Owen J. Donnelly was partially dressed and sitting up when a reporter called at his home, No. 31 Wisdom street, Allston. He appeared to be suffering from lameness and confusion of the right side, but talked freely about the case. Patrolman Donnelly said:

"This man Sokol is a bad animal. He has been the chief mischief maker in the West End for a long time. I wouldn't dare to say how many times he has been before the courts on various charges, and once I knew of his having been requested to leave town by the Judge because he was an undesirable citizen.

"The trouble with Sokol is that he wants to be allowed to run an improper house on my beat, and I won't let him. So he is sore at me. Every time he sees me he calls me a 'Becker' or on Irish hum, or some such polite-sounding name, and I have had to stand his insults for a long time.

"Although the case of Mrs. Goodman happened while I was on my day off, I was asked to serve the warrant for Sokol's arrest. I knew what kind of a man I had to deal with, so I asked the captain for a witness to come with me, in case Sokol started anything. The captain told me to take my side-partner, Patrolman Morgan, and together we went to the Sokol house.

TOLD SOKOL OF WARRANT.

"He was asleep when Mrs. Sokol admitted us, but he got up at our approach, and came into the room. I told him that I had a warrant for his arrest and that if he knew what was good for him he would come to the station without making a fuss.

"At that he uttered an oath and ran into an inner bedroom and pulled a crib between himself and us. I won't go a step for anyone. I'll die before I'll go to Station 3,' he said.

"All right, then, we came to get you.' Patrolman Ilan W. Morgan, who accompanied Donnelly to the Sokol home when the arrest was made, said:

"There isn't much to say in addition to what the papers have published. The two women are trying to get the sympathy of the public, that is all. Sokol himself works on the public by getting down on his knees and begging for a square deal, while all the time he is one of the most vile persons in the West End. Time and again he has been convicted of various offences by the courts, and always manages to get away with it. He is an able fellow—if he would only use his talents in the right direction.

"Donnelly has told the correct version of the affair. When young Hyman came at him with a knife, I began to use my club. But we didn't start the affair.

"As soon as Donnelly said that he had a warrant for Sokol's arrest the old man began to screech at the top of his voice, and in two minutes the street was filled with people.

"I have had one of the hardest beats in the city for years, and this is the first time I was ever mixed up in a row. The way that Sokol fought was a caution, and I believe that the two women would have torn me limb from limb if they could have got their hands on me. I ought to have used my club on the two women, but what can an officer do these days, without getting censured for brutality or sued for damages if he lays a hand on a woman?

"It has got so that no officer wants to go near Sokol for fear he will be raked over the coals for interfering with his family or business or something else. The less I have to do with him the better pleased I am."

MRS. SOKOL WEEPS BITTERLY.

Mrs. Sokol was in tears at the office of William H. Scharton in Court street. She said her husband had been removed to the Relief Hospital to undergo an x-ray examination. She said her husband, whom she had interviewed, told her the doctor declared he had nine ribs broken and suffered from a puncture in one of the lungs. The hospital said, however, that Sokol had only three broken ribs.

"I don't know what to do," said Mrs. Sokol. "My poor husband is suffering very much. It's a shame the way he was treated by the police.

"I met my husband at the hospital. I asked him how he was feeling. He said the doctor told him he had nine ribs broken and that one of his lungs was punctured. I'm awfully upset over the affair."

Mrs. Sokol was accompanied by

HYMAN SOKOL, son of David Sokol, whom the police charge attacked them with a knife while they were trying to arrest his father.

law protects the weak against the strong.

CHARGE UNREASONABLE ATTACK

"These officers did not apply the legal side of the law in making the arrest. On the contrary they introduced brutal tactics, something which the law discountenances.

"Why couldn't these officers act like men and not as beasts in handling Sokol? Their actions indicate they had a grudge against him. What was that grudge? That is what I intend to find out. An officer should be a gentleman at all times. He should be just.

"If these officers were fair they would have told Sokol he was under arrest and then allowed him time to get in touch with a bail commissioner to meet him and the officers at the station house. This the officers did not do. They exercised unreasonable force."

Hyman Sokol was also much upset over his father's illness due to the alleged assault by the officers.

"Really, this assault case in which my father figures is so brutal that I wonder if there is such a thing as justice," said young Sokol.

"You see, I had been in the house a short time and had fallen asleep. Suddenly I was aroused by the sound of voices. I looked out of my room and saw the hallways and other rooms filled with people. There was a big crowd of seventy or more persons.

"I heard my mother screaming. I saw her lean out of the window and yell 'police! police!' Then I went to the room where the police were and saw my father on the floor with Officers Morgan and Donnelly holding him down. One officer stretched toward the door to catch hold of me. My mother arrived on the scene and pulled me back. She was screaming frantically all the time. Six were many of those present.

SAY POLICE BEAT HIM.

"Mother implored me to go into the street and get some men to come into the house and plead with the police to let my father alone. I did as she requested. Several men went into the house. I went to the bakeshop. I was afraid to go to the house. Later I did go home. That was after the fight.

"Last December these two officers, Donnelly and Morgan, gave me a licking. I was badly beaten up by them. I was treated by a doctor. I did not tell the doctor it was the officers who were responsible for the marks on my body. Neither did my father and mother. The result was the doctor told me I had a narrow escape from death.

"My father was so incensed over the way the officers treated me that he preferred charges against them to the Police Commissioner. I never heard of what they did with the charges."

DRINKING BY WOMEN AND GIRLS OPPOSED

Washington, Aug. 12.—The Catholic Total Abstinence Union of America has gone on record in opposition to the growing use of intoxicants by women and girls. Resolutions to that effect were adopted and officers elected, headed by the Rev. John G. Bean of Pittsburgh, at the closing session of the union.

Other officers chosen were: Vice-presidents, the Rev. D. J. Kane, Scranton, Pa.; James E. Dougherty, Philadelphia; Mrs. Thomas J. Hoyett, New York; treasurer, the Rev. Maurice J. O'Connor, Boston, and secretary, Thomas E. McCrooken, Connecticut.

TEUTON AIR RAIDERS BOMB RUSSIAN BASE

Berlin, Aug. 12 — Successful attacks by German air squadrons on British war vessels off the Flemish coast and on Russian aviation stations on the Island of Oesel, off the Gulf of Riga, are announced in an Admiralty statement.

Because of the enormous amounts of coal taken by the British admiralty, there is no accurate estimate of the quantities of coal Great Britain has furnished to its allies. There is talk of regulating rates and fixing maximum prices. Coal in the north and west ports of France is now selling at $14 to $22 a ton.

$3,500,000 ORDER FOR SHELLS IN U. S.

New York, Aug. 12—The Hart-Parr Company of Charles City, Ia., has signed a contract for 9.2-inch shells for the British government, amounting to approximately $3,500,000. The company has been manufacturing this size shell successfully for the last nine months.

In addition the Hart-Parr Company has received a contract from Ameri-

How Combatants in Police vs. Sokol Battle Measure Up

DAVID SOKOL: Height, five feet ten inches. Weight, 165 pounds.

PATROLMAN ELAM W. MORGAN: Height, five feet eleven inches. Weight, 225 pounds.

PATROLMAN OWEN J. DONNELLY: Height, six feet one inch. Weight, 230 pounds.

Combined weight of patrolmen who "beat up" Sokol: Four hundred and fifty-five pounds.

THE RESULTS: Sokol received three broken ribs and severe bruises and was sent to the hospital.

DONNELLY says Sokol kicked him in the groin.

MORGAN says someone cut the end off his thumb.

BRAKEMAN KILLED FIRST DAY ON JOB

George Luce, forty-two years old, Boston and Maine railroad brakeman, was found in a dying condition in the coal car of his train near the Oak Grove depot in Malden, yesterday, his first day on the job. He died soon afterward at the Malden Hospital. It is not known how he met with the accident which caused his death. His skull was fractured and his spine was injured.

C. W. MORSE TO SHIP COAL TO RUSSIA

New York, Aug. 12.—Consumers of coal, who have viewed with some apprehension its increase in price, learned today that arrangements have been made to export large quantities to Russia in vessels under the management of Charles W. Morse.

Exporters hope that this may be the beginning of enlarged shipments of coal to Europe.

That there will be a good market in Russia for American coal when the war ends is the opinion of exporters here, who believe there will be no exports of coal from Germany to Russia for a long time after peace is declared. They point out that the German coal syndicate will find a market for its product in the rebuilding of western Europe.

That Great Britain is worried over her tottering coal trade is obvious, American exporters say. It is said, however, that Britain believes lack of organization in the United States will nullify its efforts in exporting coal.

We Give and Redeem Profit-Sharing Stamps

HOUGHTON & DUTTON Co

Mr. C. A. Lockhart

"The Merchandise King of America"

INVITES EVERYBODY TO ATTEND ONE OF THE Greatest Merchandise Events

EVER HELD IN BOSTON

HIS

GREAT MILL-END (THE GENUINE) SALE

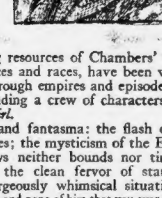
STARTS AT OUR STORES

September Cosmopolitan

—the new 192-page Cosmopolitan —the biggest magazine on the stands—and the best—contains the opening installment of

The Dark Star

By Robert W. Chambers



The amazing resources of Chambers' knowledge of humanity, of places and races, have been warped into a tale that gallops through empires and episodes, gathering in its train as astounding a crew of characters as ever romance knew—and a girl.

Melodrama and fantasma: the flash of blades and the clash of destinies; the mysticism of the East and the devotion that knows neither bounds nor time—crafty brains pitted against the clean fervor of staunch valor—hair-raising and gorgeously whimsical situations—and love.

All of Chambers and none of him that you ever knew before.

A tender, kindly, tense and rollicking story which promises a denouement from month to month and as regularly leaves you stranded in chuckling and spellbound expectation.

Don't miss a line of it. There'll be no back copies. Go right to the nearest newsstand and get September Cosmopolitan now. The edition won't last the week out, and dealers won't have "more."

There never was such an issue. We've improved the book in every way that a periodical can be rendered comely, worthy and comfortable.

Not a floppy, wabbly, slimpsy folio whose columns and ungainly proportions tire the eye and elude handling, but just the right size to hold and read.

Big pages—smashing pictures and crowds of them. Fifty per cent more contents—longer sections of serials—a new group of authors, besides regular contributors.

Y. M. C. A. HEADS WILL TAKE UP BORDER ROW

By BERT FORD.

Second Massachusetts Brigade Headquarters, El Paso, Tex., Aug. 12.—The international committee of the Y. M. C. A. will undoubtedly pass upon the differences existing between Field Secretary Howard Mosher, in charge of the recreation pavilion at the camp of the Second Massachusetts Brigade and Colonel Frank A. Graves of the Eighth Regiment.

Colonel Graves and Chaplain H. Boyd Edwards complain that Y. M. C. A. tents at Camp Cotton are encroaching on the religious work of the chaplains. In fact, certain chaplains entertain the opinion that the Y. M. C. A. hopes eventually to monopolize spiritual work in the army and perhaps do away with chaplains entirely.

Y. M. C. A. DENIES CHARGE.

Y. M. C. A. agents deny this charge. One agent said today:

"Mr. Mosher does not intend to conduct a public controversy with Colonel Graves or Chaplain Edwards. The issues involved should be decided by the international committee and by direct communication with the War Department if necessary.

"This is not a matter for a chaplain or a colonel or a general. The truth is that the pavilion was erected for the use of the entire Massachusetts brigade and not for the Eighth Regiment alone and therefore General E. Leroy Sweetser, as commander of the brigade, and not Colonel Graves, should be the spokesman.

"If any soldiers wish to talk religion with any agent of the Y. M. C. A., the agent should no be denied the privilege and I don't think he will be. It may be all right for Colonel Graves to claim that the Y. M. C. A. should be limited to social matters, but I think the association and its agents have a right to consider the spiritual welfare of the soldiers if it is the soldiers' choice and inclination and the association should not be confined to gifts of ice water and stationery."

Chaplain Murray H. Dewart of the Massachusetts Artillery Regiment said:

"The more souls saved the better."

SAND STORM PREVENTS PARADE.

A violent sand storm prevented the regimental parade of the Fifth Regiment. Cook George W. Taylor of M Company of the Fifth has been promoted to mess sergeant.

Colonel Willis C. Stover and all officers of the Fifth passed the federal physical examinations. The last of the enlisted men of the Fifth have been examined. Examination of the Eighth's officers and men will begin next week.

Colonel Edward L. Logan is to tour the ninety-five-mile front of outposts covered by his command. He has assigned his medical aid as follows: Major Fred L. Hogan to remain at Camp Cotton; Captain Charles P. Maline, to Fabens; Lieutenant Paul R. Butler, to the cement plant and Lieutenant Dwyer to Fort Hancock.

The men of the signal corps have not received their State pay. They are said to be the only Bay State unit who have not.

Joseph H. McNally, a well-known Boston lawyer and member of A Company of the Ninth Regiment, was discharged from the base hospital after an illness of four weeks.

500 Boston Rookies at Plattsburg Camp

Plattsburg, N. Y., Aug. 12.—The Boston contingent, who enlisted for the fourth Plattsburg training camp, detrained five hundred strong. Upon their arrival they co-operated with units from other sections of the country to the number of about thirty-five hundred and were immediately assigned to regiments and companies and became a part of the great voluntary military system.

The new comers were naturally green but they were quickly whipped into shape by regular army officers and fell into the military regime.

Among the many prominent men of Boston who are giving their vacations to their country may be noted Harold Blanchard, of the Tennis and Racquet Club; Julian Cardman, well known lawyer; Professor Theodore Lyman, of Harvard University; Lester F. Monts of Randall & Co.; Ralph May of Bond & Goodwin, note brokers; Robert Homans of Hill, Homans & Barlow, lawyers.

WANTED—NEW IDEAS
Write for List of Inventions Wanted.

MISS LUCY ROGERS (at top), Miss Marie M. Murphy (in centre), and Miss Mary F. Desmond, who will practice law.

Girl of 21 to Try Cases Before Supreme Court

Miss Marie M. Murphy of No. 14 Bentham road, Dorchester, who was one of the five women to pass the bar examinations, was retained today by a well known attorney to assist in the presentation of several cases before the Supreme Court at its next session.

Miss Murphy will try her first case before a jury in the Superior Court, the last of September.

She is twenty-one and was graduated from Boston University in June. She was one of the officers at class day.

The other girls who passed the recent examinations and who will take up active practice at once are: Miss Mary F. Desmond of Beverly; Miss Dorothy M. Hobson of Boston; Miss Louise Hosmer of Woburn and Miss Lucy Rogers of No. 5 Craigie street, Cambridge.

JEWISH WAR FUND IS NOW $5,677,807

New York, Aug. 12.—Announcement is made that donations during the week have brought the total fund of the Jewish War Sufferers' Committee up to $5,677,807.

These contributions have been collected from all parts of the country. Felix M. Warburg is chairman of the

BRITISH SEIZE U.S. GOODS IN PACIFIC

Washington, Aug. 12.—The State Department has been informed that British cruisers in the Pacific have intercepted merchant ships bound for American ports with cargoes owned or said to be owned by firms on England's blacklist.

This is the first instance reported to the State Department of the arrest of ships and the removal therefrom of goods under the provisions of the blacklist decree.

State Department officials said the interference with the American commerce ocurred in the Pacific and that the vessels were destined to the Philippine islands.

The officials believe it forecasts Britain's intention of extending her practice under the "trading with the enemy" act to include the seizures of cargoes bound for ports in the United States.

It is considered practically certain that the British government's reply to the American blacklist protest will be a reassertion of its claimed right to wage war upon American commerce wherever that commerce is conducted by firms whose names are on the allied blacklist.

It was stated that British cruisers are patroling the waters near Penang, west of the Malay peninsula, on the route to the Philippines. It was in these waters that the vessels with cargoes consigned to persons in the Philippines were stopped and goods of alleged blacklist connection were removed.

The official who gave this information to the International News Service said:

This new phrase of British conduct is indefensible on two grounds: First, Great Britain has not yet settled with us on the principle of the blacklist; Second, Great Britain seemingly asserts the right to stop neutral vessels and take off so-called "tainted" cargoes.

By the same logic she can stop American ships and take off cargoes consigned to American firms whose names are on the blacklist.

It is obvious that Great Britain intends, right or wrong, to see that there is no trading with blacklisted firm's vessels of any nationality. The gravest issue in this controversy therefore, is close at hand.

It is absolutely certain that whatever we intend to say to Great Britain on the principls of the blacklist must be more to the point and more vigorous.

We must demand that she tell us whether or not she proposes to stop by force trading between American ports and the Philippines, which are a part of our own country.

SHIPPING CUT BY SLIDES IN CANAL

Washington, Aug. 12.—Slides in the Panama Canal decreased the number of ships passing through from 1,088 in 1915 to 787 in the year closing July 1 last. The net tonnage fell from 3,542,925 to 2,473,761, and the cargo from 4,865,792 to 3,140,046 tons. The expenses of operation and maintenance totalling $6,999,750 exceeded the receipts from tolls by $4,639,919. During the preceding year when the canal was open the tolls exceeded expenditures by $267,656. Gaillard cut dredging alone cost $3,513,350, and total dredging charges were $3,566,016, against $1,749,475 last year.

BOY DRAGGED TO HIS DEATH BY UNDERTOW

Old Orchard, Me., Aug. 12.—Thomas F. McCue, son of Patrick H. McCue of Speedwell street, Dorchester, Mass., is believed to have been drowned in the surf here when three others were saved from drowning in one of the heaviest seas experienced at this resort in midsummer.

Shortly after the four young men entered the water, a heavy undertow carried them beyond their depth and dragged them under.

Harry Myer, a life guard, swam out to rescue McCue, but after a long, vain search he returned to shore.

U.S. Firm to Make $34,000,000 Shell Steel for Allies

By International News Service.

New York, Aug. 12.—Contracts calling for 500,000 tons of shell steel and valued at $34,000,000, were closed here between representatives of the allies and the United States Steel Corporation, acting with several large independent companies.

This business, which the International News Service announces exclusively, is the largest single steel contract ever placed in this country since the war began.

The order includes semi-finished billets rounds and forgings, and delivery is to be completed by the end of July, 1917. The prices range from $49 to $90 a ton, depending on the character of the steel, making the average price per ton of $47.50. The material will be used abroad in the manufacture of high explosive shells.

THREAT AGAINST DENMARK BY U.S. CHARGED

By International News Service.

Copenhagen, Aug. 12.—Public indignation over the proposed sale of the Danish West Indies to the United States is increasing throughout Denmark. Many influential papers predict the overthrow of the government.

Publication of a statement alleged to come from official sources, that America had served an ultimatum on Denmark, threatening the seizure of the islands if they were not sold, has served to strengthen opposition to the sale, though generally disbelieved in well-informed quarters.

Opposition newspapers are leading the public clamor in demands on the government to publish documentary evidence of what they declare an "insult to an independent government."

Society Bandits Visit Bar Harbor

By International News Service.

Washington, Aug. 12.—Society bandits, in organized gangs, who again are plying their trade among the wealthy patrons of Atlantic City, Cape May, Bar Harbor and other fashionable coast resorts, have exacted vast sums of money from victims in blackmailing hold-ups, according to information reaching the Department of Justice today.

Attorney-General Gregory immediately ordered diverted the activity of his secret service men from other channels to "hot trails" to apprehend at least a dozen suspects who have wrung thousands of dollars from the victimized.

Among the numerous cases which have been brought to the attention of the department in the last twenty-four hours is that of a prominent society woman whose fortune of $100,000 paid tribute to the silence of polished gangsters. At the Department of Justice a discreet reticence is maintained as to the principals in this and numerous other cases, and names are not divulged.

The official records, however, it is admitted, disclose that the gay Summer season has been a most disastrous one for more than a full score —officially reported cases—of light-hearted pleasure seekers.

Hundreds of other cases, the department suspects, never will be reported and it is even doubtful that the government could secure evidence in the cases now reported in which individuals would rather suffer the loss of "hush money" than endure the unpleasant notoriety that an admission of the facts might create.

The department today announced that it had secured the earnest co-operation of the local police authorities at the seaside resorts in the effort to break up the suspected holdup gangs, and with evidence in hand numerous arrests are expected.

SEEKING THIRD MEXICAN ENVOY

By International News Service.

Washington, Aug. 12.—The impression prevailed in official circles today that one of the men selected by President Wilson to serve on the Mexican-American mediation commission had declined to serve. White House officials refused to discuss the matter at all.

Announcement was made last Wednesday that the President had appointed the three Americans and that their names would be given out as soon as all of them had accepted. The length of time that has elapsed, it was believed today, made it certain that one of the men could not serve and that the President is looking around for some one else.

Clearance Sale of Dress Goods
Including serges, diagonals, sport stripes, and voiles. Original vals. range up to 59c 19c

Jordan Marsh Company
Great Basement Store
The Store of Absolute Satisfaction

REMEMBER!
In addition to the many bargain lots, we carry full lines of Regular New Summer Goods in every Basement Department, at prices averaging much lower than elsewhere.

Two Days Only Monday and Tuesday Aug. 14th & 15th

Boston's Big Famous Monthly Sale

That No Shrewd Woman Can Afford to Miss

BANNER BARGAIN SALE

This special sale offers absolutely unequalled values in trustworthy and low priced Summer Merchandise. This sale affects nearly every section in Our Great Basement Store.

Look for the Banners—They Signal Big Savings

Smallwares

Rubber Bathing Caps, in red, blue, black and wisteria. Original value 25c 17c

Japanese Silk Dress Shields, light weight, sizes 2 and 3. Orig. value 15c a pair..... 10c

Rubber Gloves, red rubber, splendid quality, suitable for housework, etc. Orig. value 59c. Pair 39c

Ocean Pearl Buttons, small and medium sizes, 2 dozen on card. Original value 25c 10c

Ribbons

Heavy Taffeta Ribbon, in black, white, pink, Alice, cardinal, navy and brown. Original value 25c. Per yard..... 18c

Moire Ribbon, extra heavy quality in black, Alice, light blue, pink and cardinal. Original value 39c. Per yard 29c

Footwear

Women's High Grade Low Shoes, final clean-up, broken sizes and widths. Orig. val. 4.00 95c

Misses' & Children's Tan Play Oxfords, all sizes up to 2. Original value 1.25 ..... 95c

Misses' & Children's Play Oxfords, in tan, with silk soles, all sizes up to 2. Original value 1.25 ..... 95c

Final Clean-up of

Big Clean-Up Sale of

All Women's Summer Suits

Original Prices Range Up to 18.50

Now 4.75

Materials include genuine Palm Beach cloth (with labels sizes to 46), crash, fancy stripes, black and white checks, serges, men's wear mixtures.

The models are most desirable, in fact, the greater number are exact reproductions of much higher-priced suits.

Men's Hosiery

Men's Fancy Silk Hose, popular colors in stripes and two-tone effects; seconds. Original values 50c 29c

Men's Fibre Silk Hose, black, and white; seconds. Original value 25c 19c

Men's Mercerized Hose, black, white and colors; double sole and high

Cottons

Pillow Tubing, 42 and 45 inches wide, splendid quality, cut in pieces. Orig. val. 20c and 22c 12½c

Pillow Cases, 42x36 and 45x38. Original value 15c, at 10c

Pillow Cases, 42x38½ and 42x38½. Original value 18c, at 15c

Sweaters

Women's and Misses' Sweaters, shaker weave, mannish style, collar and pockets; in cardinal, tan, oxford and navy. Original value 4.00 ..... 2.98

Leather Goods

Hosiery

Women's Fancy Silk Hose, popular colorings, garter top, double sole and high spliced heels; seconds. Original value 1.50.. 98c

Women's Silk Hose, plain black and white, also some novelties; seconds. Orig. val. 1.00 69c

Women's Silk and Fibre Silk Hose, black and colors; broken lots and sizes; seconds. Original value 50c 25c

Women's Boot Silk Hose, fibre silk; black and colors; seconds. Original value 25c.. 19c

Women's Mercerized Hose, fast black and tan; seamless; seconds. Original value 25c 12½c

Children's Cotton and Mercerized Hose, black, tan and white; broken lots and sizes; seconds. Original value 25c 15c

Knit Underwear

Women's Union Suits, light and medium weights, various styles, seconds. Original values 1.00-3.50 ..... 49c

Women's "Setsnug" Mesh Union Suits, low neck, sleeveless, lace knee, regular and extra sizes. Original values 50c and 75c.. 39c

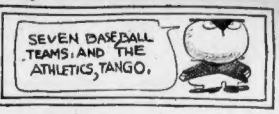
Women's Swiss Ribbed Vests, extra sizes, low neck, sleeveless, seconds. Orig. val 25c.... 17c

Women's Sleeveless Vests, low neck, sleeveless, regular and extra sizes, seconds. Original values 12½c-15c 10c

Children's Vests and Pants, various styles, broken lots and sizes, seconds. Original values 25c to 50c 17c

Some of the Golfers Would Make Very Poor Teamsters, Judging by Their Drives

BOSTON AMERICAN SPORTS



Red Sox Back in Town

Ruth vs. Hon. Johnson

All Four Western Clubs Gained on Red Sox in Intersectional Battling

—Position— July 25.	Now.	Clubs.	Won.	Lost.	P.C.
2	1	Boston	12	7	.632
3	2	Cleveland	11	6	.647
4	3	Chicago	13	7	.650
6	4	Detroit	12	6	.667
7	5	St. Louis	10	2	.905
1	6	New York	4	14	.222
5	7	Washington	4	14	.222
8	8	Philadelphia	1	20	.048

Recapitulation: West won 55 games and East 21 games.

Our highfalutin' Red Sox, easily the gamest and just about the best baseball team in the world, the sport's champions in 1915 and now headed to duplicate that triumph, providing its sister team, the honorable Braves —or the Brooklyn Dodgers—don't object, are back in town for a three-weeks' stay.

For this afternoon, at Fenway Park, there will be one battle with Clark Griffith's fast-slipping athletics. Starting time is 3 o'clock. The usual band concert will precede the matinee, while it goes without saying the gallant Bill Carrigan and all his gamecocks will be the recipients of ovations, collectively and individually, such good work did they do in the West and so natural does it look to see them back in first place

The Red Sox were in second place, a length and a half behind the Yankees, when they opened in the West, July 25. They return home at the top of the heap, two games ahead of the Indians and White Sox, who are running neck-and-neck apart, separated by a single point, the two clubs which are trailing them in the race.

SOX PLAYED LONE HAND.

If the Yankees had not been so badly crippled so they could have done themselves justice; if the Nationals had not quit to a whisper, and if the mirthful Marks had been able to have done better than win one game out of twenty-one, the fighting crew of Carrigan would have first place practically cinched today. As it is, they are operating out in front never putting up a better brand of ball, which is saying a whole lot, and looking every inch champions.

Figures, the cold, cruel dope, shows that all four of the Red Sox's Western rivals, especially those flying Browns, gained ground on Our Boys while they were out in the enemy's land. Still, as for the Red Sox themselves they won the series in all four towns, save St. Louis, and there the tally was only 3-3 against them. By the by, those two games were the only ones the troupe of Fielder Jones lost to the East. They bunched nineteen victories at the expense of the Yankees, Senators and Athletics and yesterday proved they are still going by laying out the Indians twice.

DRAT THOSE BROWNS.

Carrigan left Chicago that St. Louis was the only Western team he feared. He said the same thing when he showed up at Fenway Park this morning. Carrigan and every member of his squad feels they have whipped the White Sox and Tygers, their two natural rivals, for all times; don't think the Indians will continue to remain obstreperous much longer, but admit the Browns have them guessing.

Be that as it may, the Red Sox will take care of that haughty outfit when it comes visiting August 28, 29, 30 and 31.

Right now it is Washington, languishing in seventh place, Carrigan and his warriors are thinking about nothing and nobody else. It will be recalled that when the Red Sox called on the Nationals last month the two teams had a helluva time. Mellodie threw a bat at Mays, Andrew "plinked" Griffith, etc., etc. Likewise was Agnew pinched, with the case settled out of court. Carrigan was suspended and so was Griffith. Also, McBride and Agnew.

Long ago all concerned were restored to good standing. But today they have their first clash since the big doings. What's going to come to pass remains to be seen. Doubtless it will be a docile enough matinee, with two more added ones following Monday and Tuesday, as there's no "rough necks" among the July belligerents and the incident has doubtless been forgotten.

SWAT WORK ON TRIP

Name	A.B.	R.	H.H.	T.B.	P.C.
Henriksen	3	2	2	3	.667
McNally	2	1	1	1	.500
Gardner	67	10	27	34	.403
Ruth	6	1	3	5	.375
Shore	14	2	5	6	.357
Wyckoff	3	0	1	1	.333
Hooper	58	7	19	21	.328
Hoblitzel	70	7	23	31	.329
Walker	75	13	23	28	.306
Mays	7	1	2	4	.286
Janvrin	7	2	2	3	.286
Lewis	77	8	21	25	.284
Hooper	70	12	23	30	.271
Cady	53	3	9	14	.170
Scott	53	8	12	17	.220
Agnew	25	1	4	4	.160
Thomas	21	1	4	4	.190
Barry	75	6	14	17	.187
Foster	12	1	2	3	.167

Leonard, Gregg, Jones, Wagner and Carrigan were hitless.

Wednesday's double-header with the White Sox. Mayor Curley is to preside at the festivities.

With Henriksen having a busted finger, Shorten has been recalled from Newark and will help out in the meadows should anything happen in Lewis, Hooper or Walker until Olaf is in trim for work. "Chick" has been hitting the ball in great shape in the International League since being planted by General Bill.

ZIMMERMAN TO BE TRADED BY CUBS

New York, Aug. 12.—Before the Cubs left for Pittsburgh a report was confirmed that Heine Zimmerman, the slugging third baseman, is to be put on the market. Manager Joe Tinker was quoted as saying Zimmerman is losing interest in the game, and his indifference culminated in his neglect to report for morning practice.

A fine of $50 inflicted by the manager served to bring differences between Zimmerman and Tinker to an acute stage.

REPORT DUKE OF WESTMINSTER ILL

London, Aug. 12.—The Duke of Westminster has been invalided home from Egypt.

He is in a Paris hospital suffering from fever.

CRICKET CREASE.

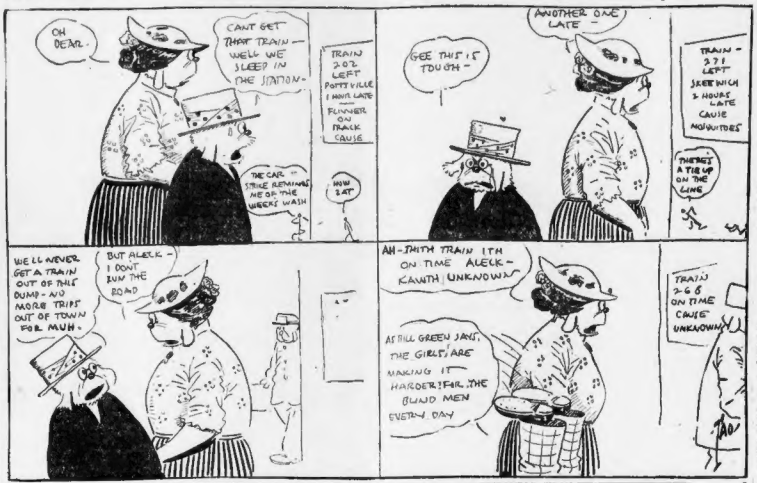
THE only local games scheduled for today in the Massachusetts State Cricket League will be staged at Franklin Field and Wood Island Park. Two games will be played on the former and one on the latter.

BEVERLY Whites, four-time champions, will demonstrate their possibilities of winning their fifth title and the Hayes cup for two years against Needham at Beverly to-

SILK HAT HARRY

Copyright, 1916, International News Service.

By TAD



OH DEAR.
CAN'T GET THAT TRAIN — WELL WE SLEEP IN THE STATION.
TRAIN 202 LEFT PATTYVILLE 1 HOUR LATE
RUNNER ON TRACK CAUSE
THE CAR STRIKE REMOVES NEGRO THE WEEKLY WASH
WW 247
GEE THIS IS TOUGH —
ANOTHER ONE LATE —
TRAIN 271 LEFT SKEEWICH 2 HOURS LATE CAUSE MOSQUITOES
THERE'S A TIE UP ON THE LINE
WELL NEVER GET A TRAIN OUT OF THIS DUMP — AND MORE TRIPS OUT OF TOWN FOR MUH —
BUT ALECK — I DON'T LOW THE ROAD
AH-SMITH TRAIN 17TH ON TIME ALECK — KAWTH UNKNOWN
AS BILL GREEN SAYS, THE GIRLS ARE MAKING IT HARDER FAIR. THE BLIND MEN EVERY DAY
TRAIN 268 ON TIME CAUSE UNKNOWN
TAD

BASE BALL SUMMARY

AMERICAN LEAGUE.

Yesterday's Results.

At Chicago—Detroit 2, Chicago 0.
At St. Louis—(First game) St. Louis 5, Cleveland 4; (second game) St. Louis 5, Cleveland 1, (eight innings.)

Standing of the Clubs.

	W.	L.	P.C.
BOSTON	61	44	.581
Cleveland	60	47	.561
Chicago	61	48	.559
Detroit	59	51	.536
St. Louis	60	51	.556
New York	55	53	.509
Washington	51	51	.500
Philadelphia	20	91	.195

Today's Games.

Washington at Boston (2 p. m.)
Philadelphia at New York.
Detroit at Chicago.
Cleveland at St. Louis.

NATIONAL LEAGUE.

Yesterday's Results.

At Boston—(First game) Pittsburgh 2, Boston 1; (second game) Boston 4, Pittsburgh 1.
At Brooklyn—(First game) Brooklyn 2, Chicago 1, (second game) Brooklyn 4, Chicago 1.
At Philadelphia—Cincinnati 3, Philadelphia 2.
At New York—(First game) New York 8, St. Louis 3; (second game) New York 2, St. Louis 0 (7 innings.)

Standing of the Clubs.

	W.	L.	P.C.
Brooklyn	62	35	.639
BOSTON	56	39	.589
Philadelphia	57	42	.576
New York	52	48	.520
Chicago	49	57	.462
Pittsburgh	46	54	.437
St. Louis	46	61	.430
Cincinnati	41	68	.376

Today's Games.

Boston at Brooklyn (2 games.)
New York at Philadelphia.
Chicago at Pittsburgh.
St. Louis at Cincinnati.

EASTERN LEAGUE.

Yesterday's Results.

At Portland—Portland 2, Worcester 0.
At New London—New London 8, Lynn 3.
At New Haven—New Haven 3, Springfield 0.
At Hartford—(First game) Hartford 2, Bridgeport 1; (second game) Bridgeport 2, Hartford 1 (10 innings.)
At Lowell—Lawrence 5, Lowell 1.

STANDING OF THE CLUBS.

	W.	L.	P.C.
Portland	69	25	.706
Lawrence	56	45	.441
New London	54	50	.490
Lowell	50	49	.505
New Haven	36	49	.424

Crowley Stops Sullivan in a Big Hurry

The two battling Mikes—Crowley of Malden and Sullivan of East Boston—former rivals in the amateurs, and now operating in professional flatic circles, drew a packed house for their twelve-round conbat at the Commercial A. C. last night.

The chief thing about their twelve-round scrap was that it didn't go that far. Crowley, who beat Sullivan in turning professional, showed the experience he has picked up as a result of his several performances with the pooney-chasers hasn't done him any harm. On the contrary, they have done him a world of good.

Sullivan did his best against Crowley and fought a plucky enough battle, but never had a chance. He was outstepped and outbanged in the first round and knocked out cold in the second stanza.

It will be Matty Baldwin vs. Harry Carlson next Friday night.

Jim McDonald and Kenneth Salisbury again went eight rounds to a draw. They afforded a few thrills and a lot of laughs. Johnny Morris knocked out Leo Downey in the third round, while Young Joyce finished Jack Sherry in the same session.

PIERCE AND MARTIN ASKED TO EXPLAIN

New York, Aug. 12.—The State Athletic Commission has summoned Harry Pierce to answer a complaint brought against him by his manager that he had violated his contract and also on complaint of the Claremont A. C. that he failed to fulfill a contract to box Thursday night.

"Silent" Martin, the deaf mute middleweight, will be given a suspension by Chairman Wenck unless he can disprove the charge he "held up" the Broadway Sporting Club for $500 Saturday night, July 29, when he had agreed to box for 30 per cent.

As there is a difference of $250 between what Martin was entitled to

Runs Scored by League Teams for the Week

AMERICAN LEAGUE.

August 5 to August 11 Inclusive.

	Boston.	Chicago.	Cleveland.	Detroit.	New York.	Philadelphia.	St. Louis.	Washington.
Saturday	7	7	12	5	3	2	6	3	45
Sunday	7	1	5	2	4	1	5	0	25
Monday	1	7	2	4	3	1	2	3	23
Tuesday	6	4	9	0	2	1	6	1	29
Wednesday	7	1	5	1	1	0	3	1	19
Thursday	11	5	3	10	2	0	5	4	40
Friday	7	0	5	2	1	0	3	5	23

High—St. Louis, 8. Low—Chicago, 0.

*No game.

NATIONAL LEAGUE.

August 5 to August 11 Inclusive.

	Brooklyn.	Boston.	Chicago.	New York.	Philadelphia.	St. Louis.	Pittsburgh.	Cincinnati.
Saturday	5	3	2	3	2	6	2	5	28
Sunday	3	8	1	2	1	3	0	2	20
Monday	4	3	1	1	1	2	1	1	14
Tuesday	2	4	0	8	1	1	2	3	21
Wednesday	3	2	1	3	0	2	2	3	16
Thursday	5	6	2	3	7	2	3	2	30
Friday	5	6	2	3	7	2	3	2	30

High—New York, 7. Low—Chicago, Philadelphia, 2.

*No game.

EASTERN LEAGUE.

August 5 to August 11 Inclusive.

	Bridgeport.	Hartford.	Lowell.	Lawrence.	New London.	New Haven.	Portland.	Springfield.	Worcester.
Saturday	3	4	4	2	2	6	15	5	5	51
Sunday	8	11	5	5	3	5	5	5	11	68
Monday	1	1	2	1	2	0	3	0	1	11
Tuesday	1	2	1	2	1	2	2	1	1	13
Wednesday	0	2	1	2	1	0	3	1	0	10
Thursday	1	0	0	1	0	2	4	1	1	10
Friday	4	15	1	2	1	2	3	1	1	30

Pacer Drops Dead in Short Ship Circuit Race

Worcester, Aug. 12. — Following three successive postponements of the Bay State Short Ship Circuit races at the Greendale course, the harness brigade was finally able to get into action.

Andy Ashland and Lady Gamage won their respective races in hollow fashion, having scarcely any competition. Ray succeeded in winning the 2.25 pace after Pedro Patchen placed two heats to his credit.

Lou Worthy, driven by John Page, Providence, dropped dead at the close of the first heat of the 2.25 pace after finishing a good third.

Alles Elmarch of Frank Fox's string proved best in the 2.20 trot. Cochato Direct caused some trouble with the first heat, but from then on it was easy for Miss Elmarch.

"The Braves are going into this clash just as I thought they would," said Stallings, "and I'm all set for a tough fight with his customary shrewd foresight.

"I realize fully," said Stallings this morning, "we are up against the big test of the season. The Dodgers out there in front with a good lead, have all the cockiness and ambition that naturally goes with leadership. If the Braves get the long end of this series I feel sure the Brooklyn team will very shortly be within hailing distance of my boys.

"LAMENTING" HANK" MISSED.

"We are pretty well fortified, despite recent injuries. I would like to have 'Hank' Gowdy back of the bat, but even without him we are unusually strong. Tragiresor, who has been a mighty fine backstop this season, is in shape again, while Blackburn, who has been catching grand ball, will keep right on doing the same thing.

"So far as pitchers go, we have a half dozen ready, and I will be the most disappointed person in the world if the Brooklyn batters don't have a very tough time of it. Little Pfizy is in condition again and can play second, though I'm not sure but

DIRECTUM I. SETS UP NEW MILE MARK

Pittsburgh, Aug. 12.—The world's champion pacer, Directum I., hung up a new season's record at Brunot's Island track when, driven by Tom Murphy, he stepped an exhibition mile in 1.59¾.

It is the best time made this year and beats the former track record of 2.01¾. The last half was paced in :57¾.

The $6,000 Matron Stake, for three-year-old trotters, was won by Expressive Lou. Bingen Silk, champion two-year-old colt of 1915, was expected to give her a strong argument, but was lame and did not prove a serious contender.

CHICAGO TYPOS WIN TITLE

Indianapolis, Ind., Aug. 12.—After the Chicago team defeated New York 4-1, in the semi-finals in the Union Printers' National baseball tournament the Windy Cityites came back and won the title by vanquishing Cleveland, 7-5. De Caulme and Taylor took turns pitching for Chicago, with Coverick behind the bat in both games.

Twin Bill in Brooklyn

Rudolph-Allen to Hurl

By JOHN W. MORAN, JR.

Brooklyn, Aug. 12.—Richard Rudolph and Frank Allen will be George Stallings' entries in today's crucial twin bill on Ebbets Field. In all probability Sherrod Smith and Jeff Pfeffer will oppose them.

All this, of course, depends on the greatest foe the Braves have had to contend with this week. This morning the sky was overcast, but unless it actually pours, C. Holiday Ebbets will not pass up the chance of pastiming.

The City of Churches and nuts is imbued with the idea the Dodgers have already won the National League pennant race. Today practically everybody but the prize prisoner in the Flatbush jail has purchased his ducat for the holiday matinee.

With Walter Tragresor and Eddie Pitzpatrick once more in the pink of condition, Manager Stallings does not fear the two Rudolph, who left Bouton somewhat in advance of his teammates, reported this morning, and Stallings at once decided to use him in the opener.

"Little Dick" has come through on his last five starts with ridiculous ease, and, according to the opposing players, is much better right now than ever he was, while getting famous in 1914.

ALLEN SEEKS REVENGE.

Allen expects to stage a scene of revenge and ultimate justice in the second game. Frank, who just now is sailing serenely along at the head of the National League pitchers, once belonged to the Dodgers. He jumped to the Feds, but only because the Squire of Flatbush expected him to hurl more for glory than financial reward.

Contrary to general expectations Earl Blackburn is still with the team. The one big mystery in the camp this morning is where he belongs and when will he go there, if it isn't here. Earl has looked especially good both behind the bat and at it since his come-back from the minors.

Yesterday it was one of his stout wallops that resulted in two Braves runs. He has, during the past few days or so, hit right up close to the top of the Boston list, the highlight part of it being that most of his clouts come at opportune moments.

BIG ED O. K. AGAIN.

"Big Ed" Konetchy, who complained in the ride over last night of stomach trouble and sore legs, declined himself as much better this morning. A teaspoonful of tabasco sauce, prescribed by old "Tabasco" Ingold, D. S., knocked the starch out of his cramps and a good rubdown helped the sore legs.

The Miracle Man, who realizes that he is now fighting for his life, had an exceedingly skull practice session this morning. The ins and outs of the Dodger defence and offence were gone into very thoroughly, as were also the strong and weak points of the individual players.

"The Braves are going into this clash just as I thought they would," said Stallings, "and I'm all set for a tough fight with his customary shrewd foresight.

"I realize fully," said Stallings this morning, "we are up against the big test of the season. The Dodgers out there in front with a good lead, have all the cockiness and ambition that naturally goes with leadership. If the Braves get the long end of this series I feel sure the Brooklyn team will very shortly be within hailing distance of my boys.

"LAMENTING HANK" MISSED.

"We are pretty well fortified, despite recent injuries. I would like to have 'Hank' Gowdy back of the bat, but even without him we are unusually strong. Tragresor, who has been a mighty fine backstop this season, is in shape again, while Blackburn, who has been catching grand ball, will keep right on doing the same thing.

"So far as pitchers go, we have a half dozen ready, and I will be the most disappointed person in the world if the Brooklyn batters don't have a very tough time of it. Little Pfizy is in condition again and can play second, though I'm not sure but I will keep Egan in for a day or so. Dick looked mighty fine over in Boston.

"We are up to the big fight, and we are ready for it."

EVERS NOT WITH PARTY.

Captain Johnny Evers did not make the trip over with the team, having departed before yesterday's double-header for his home in Troy. Captain Johnny will not get into the Dodger series, but will rejoin the outfit at Jamestown, N. Y., for an exhibition game next Wednesday.

This will be Bob Emslie day on Ebbets Field and the dean of the arbitrators will be called out in front of the big crowd and presented with some token of the league's appreciation of a quarter century of service.

Build Temporary Stand for Series

Brooklyn, N. Y., Aug. 12.—From present indications the attendance figures at Ebbets Field will be broken today, when Brooklyn plays Boston a double-header, commencing at 1:30 p. m. The reserved seats have all been sold, but there are a number of choice boxes on the lower and upper tiers unsold.

Arrangements have been made to accommodate a large crowd on the field. A large sectional circus stand has been constructed and will be placed in position against the Montgomery wall from left field to centre. This stand is entirely new and is two tiers high.

The circus stand which was used on June 24 will be placed alongside the Bedford avenue wall from the exit gate to the right field foul line.

PARDON MAN WHO KILLED UMPIRE

Louisville, Ky., Aug. 12.—Governor Stanley of Kentucky has granted a pardon to a young man who killed the umpire at a baseball game by striking him over the head with a bat to clinch an argument.

MONEY FOR MISS DODGE.

Mobile, Ala., Aug. 12.—The Mobile and Chattanooga (Southern Association) teams, raised a fund of $1,500 at an exhibition game for the orphaned sister of Johnny Dodge, a former Philadelphia and Cincinnati National player, who became a member of the Mobile team several months ago and was killed by a pitched ball.

HOTEL CROFTON
Eliot, between Wash. & Tremont Sts.
SPECIAL—$1.25
EVERY SATURDAY.
Finished strictly Broad
Served for supper.
Served in Cafe and Grill Room 11 a. m. to 11 p. m.
BACHELOR APARTMENTS

A Baseball Manager's Only Objection to Streaks Is That They're Not All of Winning Variety

BOSTON AMERICAN SPORTS

SECONDS FOR HUB OARS

Newton Darling and Joe Hunt Trail Winners Across Line at Duluth—Rooney Is Best Bet.

Duluth, Minn., Aug. 12.—The intermediate double sculls will be the principal event at today's session of the national regatta on St. Louis bay. The Gleicon boys are pitted against a small field—one double from the Pennsylvania barge and one from the Duuth Boat Club.

Judging from yesterday's showing of Hasse and Walker of the Philadelphia crew, their greatest efforts will be against the Duluth team, Reinberger and Horak.

In yesterday's events Duluth oarsmen won four of the seven events, capturing all sweep events.

Individual honors went to Rooney of the Bayswood Club of Long Island, N. Y., who won the quarter-mile dash for senior scullers and the association single sculls, in which Newton P. Darling Union Boat Club, Boston, got second place.

Jasper Hunt, St. Alphonsus Club, Roxbury, the other Boston entrant, also got a second, E. Hask of Detroit beating him out in the intermediate sculls.

Duluth also captured the senior double sculls, its pair, Osman and Kent, beating the Vespers, the only other club entered. The summary:

Senior national four-oared race—Won by Duluth; Illinois Valley Yacht and Canoe Club, Peoria, Ill., second; Century Rowing Club, third; Grand Rapids Boat and Canoe Club, Grand Rapids, Mich., fourth. Time—7m. 49 2-5s.

Intermediate eight-oared race—Duluth won; Undine Barge Club, Philadelphia, second; Minnesota Boat Club, St. Paul, third; New York A. C., fourth; Illinois Valley Yacht and Canoe Club, Peoria, fifth. Time—7m. 14s.

Association single sculls—Won by Rooney, Bayswood, L. I., N. Y.; Darling, Union Boat Club, Boston, second; Doman, Duluth, third; Regan, Mutual Rowing Club, Buffalo, fourth; Brown, Argonaut Rowing Club, New Orleans, fifth and last. Others scratched. Time—8m. 49s.

Quarter-mile dash for senior scullers—Won by Rooney, Bayswood, Long Island, N. Y.; Doman, Duluth, second; Smith, N. Y. A. C., third; Allison, Undine Barge Club, Philadelphia, fourth; Schaubacher, Undine Barge Club, fifth. Time—1m. 34 4-5s.

Junior eight-oared race—Duluth won by three lengths; N. Y. A. C., second; Minnesota B. C., St. Paul, third. Time—7m. 20 1-5s.

Intermediate sculls race—Won by E. Hask, Detroit; Joseph Hunt, Alphonsus Boat Club, Boston, second; Allan McFill, Minnesota Boat Club, St. Paul, third. Time—8m. 38s. Slow because of bad water.

Senior double sculls—Won by Osman and Kent, Duluth; Walter L. Smith and John B. Kelly, Vespers, Philadelphia, second. Only two starters. Time—8m. 12 2-5s.

TRACK STARS TO COMPETE

New York, Aug. 12.—The greatest collection of champions to compete in a meet since the Olympic Games will participate in the annual meet of L. U. No. 66, to be held here August 29. Among the participants of note who will compete are Willis Gordon, George Bronhart, Pat Cahill, Matt McGrath, Pat McDonald, W. Granger and Jack Eller.

Today See

THE MYSTERIES OF MYRA

At the Following Theatres

KINCAIDE
1560 Hancock, Quincy, Mass.
GRELLEY'S
420 Congress, Portland, Maine.
STAR
Broadway, W. Lawrence, Mass.
FAMILY
122 Front, Worcester, Mass.
MAGNET
201 Washington, Dorchester, Mass.
SMITH'S
41 Main, Woonsocket, R. I.
PASTIME
957 So. Water, New Bedford, Mass.
NATIONAL
240 Sawyer, New Bedford, Mass.
WHITE'S OPERA HOUSE
Park & Main, Concord, N. H.
AUDITORIUM
Market & Water, Norwich, Conn.
UNIVERSAL
Fitchburg, Mass.
OPERA HOUSE
Augusta, Maine
CENTRAL HALL
Dover-Foxcroft, Me.
GEM
Main St., Berlin, N. H.
PERSIAN HALL
Main St., Mechanics Falls, Me.

Bringing Up Father

By George McManus

Copyright, 1916, International News Service—Registered United States Patent Office.
OH! I FEEL TERRIBLE. I FEAR THE WORST. HUSBAND-DEAR-COLLECT TEN DOLLARS FROM MRS JONES. SHE HAS OWED IT TO ME FOR THREE MONTHS!
SHE'S ALL RIGHT-DOCTOR-SHE'S IN HER RIGHT MIND
I'M AFRAID YOUR WIFE IS DELIRIOUS MR. JIGGS
AND MRS. JONES OWES ME FIVE DOLLARS AND MISS STOVE BORROWED TWO FROM ME BUT NEVER PAID ME!
AH! SURE NO ONE COULD HAVE A MEMORY LIKE THAT AND BE DELIRIOUS!
I'M POSITIVE SHE IS DELIRIOUS!
OH. YES-MRS. BLACK OWES ME TWENTY!
DOCTOR-YOU'RE ALL WRONG-ME WIFE IS CERTAINLY IN HER RIGHT MIND!
AND HUSBAND-DEAR-I OWE THE MILLINER FIFTY-MY TAILOR ONE HUNDRED-THE JEWELER FIVE HUNDRED QUICK-DOCTOR-GIVE HER SOME THING-SHE'S DELIRIOUS NOW-SHE'S COMPLETELY OUT OF HER MIND!
GEO MCMANUS

Yacht Series on Wane Nutmeg III. Far Ahead

Marblehead, Aug. 12.—The midsummer series will close here this afternoon with the third day of the Corinthian Yacht Club regatta, but before sundown this evening yachtsmen and regatta committee will have had all the yachting they will be able to stand.

On account of the flattening of the wind yesterday afternoon, when all the big boats, with the exception of the Nutmeg III., Bernice and Flight, were leeward of the weather mark, only about one-half of the 141 yachts which started in the twenty-nine classes were able to finish.

The failure of the yachts to get home makes it necessary for the Corinthian Yacht Club regatta committee to race off those classes which were not in before the four-hour time limit was up last night.

None of the E, R, Q, B or A yachts finished yesterday and those classed sail off this morning at 10:30.

When the wind dropped off the E, R, Q, B and A boats were will to leeward of the southeast breakers and because of the lack of wind and flood tide were unable to fetch the mark. The boats slipped around in the heavy sea and many of them did not get back to their moorings until long after dark, although a great many were picked up by launches, dispatched by the regatta committee.

The Long and Go Back race for power boats was starred in two divisions, the first, which will be for speed and semi-speed boats, got the gun at 11, while the cabin and open crafts followed five minutes later.

MUST TRAVEL TOP SPEED.

The power boats will run for fifteen minutes in the direction of the committee launch, which will be anchored off the western end of Baker's Island and at the expiration of that time, they will turn and race back to the starting line.

The boats are to cross the starting line at full speed and will be obliged to travel at their highest rate of speed during the entire outward run, which will put the faster boats further from the finish line when the fifteen minutes are up, and will give the slower crafts a handicap of the distance separating the boats when they make their turn for the homeward trip.

Any boats not complying with the rules regarding travelling at top speed during the race out past the committee boat will be disqualified. The boat which reaches the finish line first in each class will be declared the winner.

The regular schedule of racing for the third day of the Corinthian Yacht Club "race week" calls for the starting of twenty-nine classes and these events will be held during the afternoon, starting at 2:30 with the P Class.

ELLEN DROPS BACK.

There is no question but what there swung off on the Ellen and then came up sharply, crashing onto the starboard aft deck of the Ellen. About a foot of the Ellen's rail was carried away, while the Britomart stove in her bow.

FLIGHT HAS RUNAWAY.

Skipper C. P. Curtis immediately pulled out of the race, but not until he had expressed himself quite freely regarding his opinion of Harold Wheelock as a helmsman. Young Curtis was inclined to get his Britomart into more collisions this season than all the other Class P skippers combined. It is believed that most of the accidents done by or to the Britomart are due to the fact that she is controlled by a wheel instead of a tiller and cannot be luffed quickly enough in an emergency.

The finishing of the Bernice in the runner up's position jumped the Lee sloop into second place, while the Ahmeek, by failing to get better than fifth place, dropped off a fraction of a point in the standing and is now just one point better than the Hayseed IV.

The Flight simply ran away from the other Bar Harbor boats yesterday, and she was tied up at her moorings before the Mildred IV., which was second boat, came into the mouth of the river. The Sauty sloop was travelling so fast that she finished just astern of the Bernice, thereby getting the gun for her class before five of the P boats had finished.

The prizes for the three days' series of the Corinthian Yacht Club will be awarded this evening at the club, and the 1916 midsummer series here will wind up with a big celebration. The Y. R. U. boats will start on their squadron run to Hull at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning.

TENNIS FINALS AT PROVIDENCE TODAY

Providence, Aug. 12.—Harold A. MacKinney of Providence and Douglas Watters, the Southern champion, defeated Arthur Ingraham of Woonsocket and A. A. Barrows of Providence in the semi-finals of the State championship tennis doubles. MacKinney and Watters play Josiah Wheelwright of Boston and H. B. Breis of Boston in the finals today.

The finals in the singles between

ONE HOUR RACE AT BEACH

Carman, Didier, Linart and Madonna Come Together Behind Motors—Sullivan vs. Chandler

TONIGHT'S REVERE CARD.

One-hour motor-paced race—Starters: Clarence Carman, Jamaica, L. I.; Leon Didier, France; Victor Linart, Belgium; Vincent Madonna, Providence.

Special match race—Tim Sullivan, New Haven, Ct., vs. Ned Chandler, Boston.

Amateur and professional events.

With the championship races looming up ahead, tonight's one-hour motor-paced contest at the Revere cycle track is bound to prove particular attractive.

While the outcome will have no connection with the title tilts, it will, nevertheless, serve to give a good line on the riders who later on will battle for the national and world's crowns.

The race behind the motors will have as contestants Clarence Carman, Victor Linart, Leon Didier and Vincent Madonna. Carman, Linart and Didier appear certain to get a crack at the title.

Just where Madonna fits in remains to be seen. This youngster is a "comer." There is no doubt about that. Much depends on what he shows tonight. If he makes good in big company, then he is bound to be heard from when the championship events are staged.

Great interest is being manifested in the special sprint match between Tim Sullivan of New Haven, Ct., and Ned Chandler of Boston.

Sullivan, back in the good graces of the National Cycling Association, is out to defeat Chandler if possible. He is bitter against the Boston boy for the latter's stand in the recent strike, and will do his utmost to land in front.

With a clear track to work on Chandler is bound to be at his best. He has been more or less handicapped in open events because of his habit of laying back until the last minute and then trying to work his way through a broken field.

Tonight, however, he will have to keep on the move every minute if he hopes to take the taw of the New England sprint champion.

HARVARD STUDENTS BECOME COACHES

SPORT FOOD
GEO. E. PHAIR

MAYBE IT'S THE HUMIDITY.

When days grow hot and brains grow dull
And baseball dope is slim
The baseball writers fill their space
By trading Heine Zim.

After a thorough investigation we have found that the Great Zim (which is Henry Zimmerman's maiden name) has been sold, traded and exchanged 1,247,642 separate and distinct times.

WANT AD.

WILL EXCHANGE—One almost absolutely electric fan for a snow storm.

Weather has caused the postponement of forty-two games in the Central League this season, but we don't think the rain missed much.

Watching the leaders in the American League is much like watching an automobile race. Here he comes, there he goes.

It is not necessary to go in swimming in order to be bitten by a shark, Just try to buy a pair of tickets to a popular show.

"The team that beats the Phils" quoths George Stallings, "will finish first." It might be added that the team that doesn't beat the Reds will finish ninth.

Foolish Question No. 1,000,001—Comrade wife telegrammed us from Albany asking if we had saved any money during her absence.

Blessings on the man who invented tea. But we cannot say the same for the man who sells it.

It is rumored that there are very few icebergs floating in the harbor this season.

WE ARE NO LONGER AN ORPHAN

They may fight on the red fields of Europe;
It doesn't disturb me at all
And I am not concerned if Gallowfski is burned
And if Hoosit and Whatshisname fall.

I don't care a whoop if the Russians
Make sausage meat out of the Tents
And if England is licked and the Frenchmen is kicked
I don't care a couple of boots.

The Deutschland may cross the gray ocean,
It causes nor pleasure nor pain,
I don't care a groat if they sink or they float,
For the misses is with me again.

We understand that an expert accountant is not required to keep track of all the games won by the Athletics.

DUNDEE CAN GET A BET

Johnny O'Leary Wants to Gamble He Will Beat Scotch-Wop—Why Hammer Went Bad

By RINGSIDE.

"I've never seen it fail; let a visiting boxer train at Nantasket or Revere and he's too weak to do himself justice' when he goes into the ring."

So remarked Joe McCarthy, the local boxing impresario, today. "Ever Hammer can fight. There's no doubt about that. He's a corking good kid.

"He never saw the Atlantic in his life until he pitched his training camp at Nantasket. The ocean was too much for him. He was in early and late and the swimming and paddling around, coupled with his roadwork and the terrific heat, is what put him into the ring against Shamus O'Brien as weak as a kitten.

If Hammer had been as good for O'Brien as he was for Johnny O'Leary, Shamus wouldn't have lasted over four or five rounds.

NOT AFRAID OF DUNDEE.

"By the way, O'Leary phoned me from Buffalo yesterday. He will be in town Sunday, and he told me he was coming prepared to bet a chunk on himself against Johnny Dundee.

"O'Leary boxed Dundee in Buffalo some six weeks ago and declares the Scotch-Wop will be duck soup for him over the twelve-round Boston distance."

Be it known that at post time, when O'Leary went on with Hammer in their long-to-be-remembered encounter at the Arena a fortnight ago, he asked Manager Bish Murray to advance him $500 so he could put down a bet on himself. Bleeding clear of the gambling fraternity is one of the very best things Murray does, and Johnny was told to look up some other agent.

PRICE WAS OVERLAID.

The talent evidently didn't have much of a line on O'Leary, as he was a 10 to 3 and 10 to 4 long shot. So, if he got down his $500, he cashed a mighty comfortable ticket. As for "Darby" Kelly, O'Leary's peppery little pilot, he is credited with having made an old-time swine-killing when his charge got Referee Conley's award at the end of the bristling twelve-

Is Ring Veteran at 18 Cline's Record Unique

A ring veteran at eighteen! Such is the unique distinction held by "Irish Patsy" Cline, the New York lad whose ambition it is to become lightweight champion of the world at twenty. The "Irish" clings to Patsy's name, as it serves to distinguish him from the old-time Jersey featherweight.

Patsy is typically Irish. His fighting proves that much. He is the first of the leading lightweights since the palmy days of Jack McAuliffe who can claim Ireland for his birthplace. Patsy was born in County Longford just eighteen years ago. At the tender age of a year he was brought to this country to be developed into a lightweight champion.

Young Cline has just graduated into the lightweight division, after nearly three years of sensational work as a featherweight. At fifteen he was a professional boxer, and he intends to remain in the game until after several years' reign as lightweight king.

Such ring luminaries as Packey McFarland and Mike Gibbons have passed judgment on Cline, and their verdict was the same—both them Cline represented the classiest bit of fighting machinery produced in the East in years.

PRAISED BY LEONARD.

A year or so ago, however, when Cline was still a featherweight, Leonard expressed the opinion that in time Cline would become a dangerous contender for championship honors. Little did Benjamin realize that it would be in his own class that Cline would be a dangerous contender. A meeting between the two is in the incubation stage, and should be ready for hatching by early Autumn.

The expressions of McFarland and Gibbons regarding Cline's ability should carry some weight, as each speaks with the knowledge gained through years of experience. Gibbons even regards Cline as a superior boxer to himself—and everyone knows the skill and cunning possessed by the St. Paul Shroud.

WHAT GIBBONS THINKS.

Gibbons has boxed with Cline a number of times; as a matter of fact Cline served as boxing partner for Michael in 1913 and 1914. While lacking the hitting powers of Gibbons, a middleweight, Cline boxed rings around the master boxer. Even Gibbons' hardest blows failed to make Cline step back. No wonder Mike thinks so highly of the New York lad.

McFarland never boxed with Cline, but he has seen him perform, any number of times, as both trained for bouts at the New Polo A. A., in Gotham. It was there that McFarland saw Cline outbox the shifty Benny Leonard, not once or twice, but every time they donned the gloves. Cline also outboxed every other lad he faced in the New Polo gymnasium.

Cline did not drift into the boxing game. As a lad of ten, he amused himself and annoyed his brother, by engaging in impromptu matches with the elder member of the family. Patsy was an undersized kid at thirteen, but that did not deter him, or curb his desire to box.

BROKE IN AT THIRTEEN.

An amateur tournament was in progress at the New York Athletic Club. Patsy was determined to gain fame. He borrowed his brother's long trousers—without his brother's knowledge—and posed as a sixteen-year-old. Patsy won the first prize in the 108-pound class.

Success did not turn his head. He continued in the amateur game until he had won twenty-two A. A. U. tournaments at 116 and 125 pounds. Included in his triumphs were three for national championships. In 1913, after winning the national title in both the 115 and 125-pound classes, Patsy thought he was good enough to join the money chasers. He has been eminently successful thus far.

Cline accompanied Leach Cross on the latter's trip to the Pacific Coast. Leach boxed Freddy Welsh and Joe Rivers, and came off second best in each bout. Cline fared better. He won all of his four bouts with the leading featherweights on the coast.

BRITTON FOUND HIM TOUGH.

Shortly after this Cline acted as sparring partner for Gibbons, and then served in a like capacity for Jack Britton. Even the latter could do nothing with the shifty Mr. Cline.

FENWAY

On Monday Will Be Printed the First Instalment of the Third Episode in "BEATRICE FAIRFAX." Watch for It.

"BEATRICE FAIRFAX"

Novelized From the Great Film Play
By BEATRICE FAIRFAX

The American's Magazine and Fiction Page

By Beatrice Fairfax
(Novelized from the Scenario by Basil Dickey.)

Copyright, 1916, by International News Service.

THERE was need of immediate action—but more immediate was the necessity of finding a weapon. Jimmy seized a chair and flung it at one of his opponents. The creature automatically jumped out of range and the chair thudded against the wall. As if by magic a panel opened and slid back.

Jimmy wasted no time in analyzing the situation, but devoted himself to disposing of the men between him and that beckoning exit and getting through it and out of the neighborhood of flashing knives and gleaming teeth and eyes. Nor did he linger in the room in which he suddenly found himself to wait the coming of his foe.

The better part of discretion seemed flight, and Jimmy considered this the time to be very discreet. He rushed on into another room and turned and locked the door through which he had come.

At a table in the centre of the room sat a man—a typical Italian fruit vendor—working at a queer black object which appeared in no way connected with the trade which seemed his by right of suitability. Jimmy was quite ready to handle one foe, and he expended all the energy he had longed to use in disposing of those dagger and stiletto flashing Italians on their compatriot who was fighting barehanded like Mr. Barton himself.

He Picks Up a Bomb

He suspected that there was all need for speed—that the men with whom he had recently been playing "showdown" so peacefully would burst through the door presently and demand a showdown of another kind. There was everything to be gained by disposing of one foe in advance. Mr. Barton looked for a weapon and his eye fell suddenly on the black object on which the Italian had been working when he came into the room.

He seized it and prepared to fling it at his opponent's head. Then a surprising thing happened. The Italian fell on his knees and screamed out a plea for mercy. "Datta a bomb! I make him—don't throw—he killa us both!"

Jimmy lowered it slowly, but continued to threaten the maker who continued on his knees in deadly terror. As yet there was no sound of pursuit. Jimmy crossed the room and began climbing a ladder which he had seen leaning against the window. He was still holding the bomb gingerly, but he managed to convey to the kneeling enemy that he should be destroyed if he moved. There was a sound of blows on the door beyond.

Jimmy reflected that he was just about in time and that he might have to fling his weapon at the whole bunch. It was rather an uncomfortable business climbing a narrow ladder to the accompaniment of shouts below and with the knowledge that in your hand was a weapon of destruction on which you had better keep a tight hold. Rapid transit up the ladder was very difficult. Hardly had he gotten to the top when black and evil faces appeared at the base.

Jimmy wasted no time in parleying, but dashed across the roof, still holding his bomb.

Some Quick Reflections

As he went he reflected that the newspaper game certainly offered you a liberal education—but that you had to know a few tricks to hold up your end in it too. "When I get out of this," he vowed, "I'll look up a nice friendly sailor and learn how to go up a rope hand over hand—though what I really need is to learn how to do it with one hand and one foot!"

But, however light-hearted his reflections, Jimmy was not light-headed enough to loosen his hold on the bomb.

On and on he rushed. At last he noticed ahead of him a roof, in the centre of which there was a large skylight. He made a mental note of it and of the fact that he would have to make a wide tour to avoid falling over it.

A Critical Moment

Back of him he could hear the shout of his pursuers. He had a feeling that he'd rather like Barnes to see him now. City editors sometimes forgot the days when they were reporters and the way they sometimes fell down on stories.

Jimmy looked back to gauge the distance between himself and his pursuers—and then indeed he "fell down" on his story. The skylight he had meant to avoid seemed almost to leap out of ambush and get into his way. He tripped over it and the bomb flew out of his hand and exploded ten feet ahead of him as he crashed through the glass.

His fall was broken by the providential presence of a human being directly in the line of his alighting. He tumbled against a heavy body and flung it to the floor, and Arturo crossed himself reverently at this miraculous disposal of the wild-eyed man whose knife had been descending so mercilessly toward his bare throat.

Jimmy was dazed for a second, but he had no time to indulge in commiserating with himself anent his bruises. He looked up and saw evil faces leering down through the broken glass. Then Farrari pulled back what was left of the skylight's framework and prepared to drop through.

There was no time to waste. The man who had broken his fall was unconscious and could not come to the assistance of his descending compatriots. Whether they were friends or foes—fellow-Black Handers or fellow-victims along with him, Jimmy could not afford to investigate.

He lifted a sturdy right arm and dealt the other Italian of the studio a businesslike blow on the point of the chin. If an instructor of boxing had been present, Jimmy would have gotten at least an approving handshake! Instead he was vaguely aware of cowering forms in the studio with him. He thought they were women. And then another glance told him who one of those women was.

But I, holding fast to poor frightened Marie's hand and trying to determine some way of helping my correspondent who had turned out not to be lovelorn at all, but persecuted instead, felt no consciousness that the wanut-skinned youth who was pummeling our assailant so vigorously was J. Barton, Esquire.

I could not distinguish between friend and foe. It seemed to me that there were Black Handers to right of us and Black Handers to left of us, too. Also there had been the sound of volleying and thundering out on the street to complete my memory of the "Charge of the Light Brigade."

That volleying had sounded strangely like a bomb—and as a matter of fact it was a bomb, the one which had slipped unnoticed from Jimmy's hand.

A Friend in Need

It was that bomb which brought up the reinforcements that saved us.

Almost in the same second Jimmy's pursuers darted through the skylight and rushed upon him and Arturo, who had recognized that the last comer was a friend and had entered the fray again on Jimmy's side. They were hard pressed by their assailants when, as if by a miracle, the door burst open and in rushed two policemen.

Being on the side of the law gives one a warm and comforting feeling. The Black Handers did not fight very well when the opponents' forces were equal to their own, and in just a few moments the four conscious and two unconscious assailants of our peace of mind and well-being were handcuffed and marched out to the station house and to due reckoning with the law whose power they had a moment before been serenely scornful.

Almost before he could explain, Marie had determined that it was Arturo's devotion instead of his faithlessness which had cost them both so much suffering and which was to give Mr. J. Barton of the Journal an exclusive story worthy of absolutely "smashing headlines."

"That's my second big story this month, thanks to you, Miss Beatrice," said James Barton, with a quiet sincerity I had not expected of that volatile soul.

"And it's the second time I've come through alive, thanks to you," said I.

Jimmy interrupted eagerly: "When anybody saves a life—it belongs to them; that's the etiquette of all life-saving occasions," said Mr. Barton.

But this time it was I who interrupted—and rather severely at that. "My life belongs to my work."

——"and maybe you'll find that your work belongs to me," said the irrepressible Jimmy.

(Start the Third Episode next Monday, on this page.)

Jimmy Barton (Harry Fox), escaping from his pursuers, discovers that the mystic package is a bomb.

The Stars in Episode No. 2

"The Adventures of the Jealous Wife"

Jimmy Barton — Harry Fox (Reporter for the N. Y. Evening Journal)
Beatrice Fairfax — Grace Darling (of N. Y. Evening Journal and Boston American)

This splendid series of exciting human interest stories is produced in motion pictures by Wharton Inc. Studios for the International Film Service Inc.

See the motion pictures at your favorite theatre next week

Their Married Life

Copyright, 1916, by International News Service.

The meeting of the Current Events Club occurred on one of the rainiest days of the season. Or didn't you find time to call on that woman?"

"Yes, I called on her and I shall tell Mrs. Dalton just what I found."

"How did you like it, dear," questioned Louise.

"I am awfully interested," Helen confessed. And then Mrs. Dalton stod up and the meeting was called to order.

HELEN SPEAKS

"After the business has been transacted we shall have an informal discussion," the president said in her quick, dashing way that Helen envied. Mrs. Dalton had a brilliant exterior that was fascinating. She had been with women for a long time, working at the heads of different clubs and on different committees, and she had written a book that was well spoken of on some sociological question.

Helen hardly heard the minor matters that were taken up, and when the business was finished Mrs. Dalton stepped down from the platform and took a seat in the semi-circle with the other women.

"Now we won't make this formal at all," she said, smiling. "Mrs. Curtis we are all anxious to hear what you have to say."

Every one turned to look at Helen and she felt a little glow of being wanted. It was the first time she had ever been nervous and to say what she thought at all costs.

"Haven't you a report to make to-day?" Louise queried. "Or didn't you find time to call on that woman?"

"Yes, I called on her and I shall tell Mrs. Dalton just what I found."

"How did you like it, dear," questioned Louise.

"I am awfully interested," Helen confessed. And then Mrs. Dalton stod up and the meeting was called to order.

HELEN SPEAKS

"After the business has been transacted we shall have an informal discussion," the president said in her quick, dashing way that Helen envied. Mrs. Dalton had a brilliant exterior that was fascinating. She had been with women for a long time, working at the heads of different clubs and on different committees, and she had written a book that was well spoken of on some sociological question.

Helen hardly heard the minor matters that were taken up, and when the business was finished Mrs. Dalton stepped down from the platform and took a seat in the semi-circle with the other women.

"Now we won't make this formal at all," she said, smiling. "Mrs. Curtis we are all anxious to hear what you have to say."

Every one turned to look at she stopped and motioned Helen to go on. "She told me that it wasn't her fault that her husband did as he did," Helen went on, "and she said it wasn't money she wanted, and most of all she resents the friendly talks that the club thinks necessary."

"What did you say to her?" asked Mrs. Dalton.

A FEW SUGGESTIONS

"I tried not to be patronizing," Helen said so simply that no one could think she intended to knock the methods of the club. "To tell the truth, I felt like an intruder. In some respects the woman has refinement, but she has become so bitter that it is not going to be easy to handle her case. What I should recommend is work. Something for the woman to do, so that she can be independent and not feel that she is being patronized. Something to keep her self-respecting and so remove her bitterness by a real interest in life."

Helen hesitated a moment after this suggestion and then sat down. There was a silence in the room that could be felt. Helen was sure that Mrs. Dalton was angry, but the woman was always fair and generous, and she was on her feet in an instant.

"I am very much interested in your report, Mrs. Curtis. You have done remarkably well," Mrs. Dalton said quickly. "I am inclined to think that you have handled the case with rare delicacy; certainly you have done more than any other woman so far has been able to do. I want you to take entire charge of this individual case, if you will be so kind, with the knowledge that anything you may suggest will be received with gratitude from the club. Isn't that true, ladies?"

There was a murmur of assent.

"We shall wait to see exactly how your plans work out, and I myself shall help you in any way I can to make them successful."

Helen sat quite still, conscious that she had scored quite a triumph.

Perhaps she had discovered her place in the world; at any rate, she would carry this thing through to a finish.

(Another installment of this series will appear here soon).

The True Tomb of the Saviour

Amazing discoveries that may deprive the church of the Holy Sepulchre, most holy of all shrines. You will find facts in tomorrow's Boston Sunday AMERICAN.

In Our Wonderful World

The Biography of a Sinner

By ANN LISLE

Copyright, 1916, International News Service.

Matsuki let me in when I got to Jim's apartment. "Master Jimmy, he not in yet. Honorable Miss Vera, she please go sit down. Master Jimmy he come ver' soon," said the Jap.

I was completely worn out by the feverish gayety of my tawdry week-end, by the mysterious message which had summoned me to town and by my maddening inability to reach any one who could explain why I had been called back to Rex, but could not meet him. Gradually I forgot it all and fell into a light sleep.

Suddenly I waked to find Jim leaning over me, white-lipped and sad-eyed.

"Why, Jim!" I gasped. "Have I been asleep? When did you come in? Are you angry to see me here? I was in trouble—so I came. You look so queer. Is it that you are angry?"

"No, dear, I'm not angry. I know why you came. You were running away from yourself—and the things into which I let you drift. Well, I'm going to take you away from it all. I meant to save you from myself. Now I'll have to save you from your remembered him when Jim and I entered the apartment still empty of sign or token of my brother. I whirled on Jim and told him the strange message Ted Newcome had given me on our ride to town, and of my inability to get any information from anyone in the offices of Harding, Newcome & Vargas—my brother's firm.

JIM IS DAZED

"That's queer. Couldn't you reach Steve Vargos anywhere? The Hardings are out in Westchester and Geoff is off on a hunting trip. But I think I can reach Steve for you."

A few minutes later Jim came stumbling back from the hall where he had gone to telephone. He looked dazed. But he pulled himself together quickly, rushed over to my side and took me into his dear, strong arms.

"Vera—dear little girl. I love you better than anything in the world. I thought I was strong enough to save you from anything—even myself. But I can't save you from anything, least of all myself, least of all myself. If only I could marry you now—tonight."

"I'll come with you—tonight, Jim," I said.

"No, dear, there's someone who all right, but that I must be patient a little longer.

"You haven't told him that I'm going away with you tomorrow? He'd try to stop me, Jim."

Jim's answer was strangely cryptic: "I haven't told him—but he will stop you."

After that events moved rapidly. At 9 o'clock a grim, gaunt figure stalked into the apartment when I opened the door in response to a knock. It was father.

HER FATHER APPEARS

"So — your wonderful Rex has disgraced us all," he began without preamble.

"Father! What are you doing here?" I gasped, torn between hatred and fear of something hideously menacing that seemed suddenly to close down upon me.

To be Continued Monday.

They Changed.

During the course of a trying campaign a somewhat eccentric colonel was seized with a sudden ardor about hygiene, and one morning peremptorily ordered that all the men in his regiment should change their shirts. The order was duly carried out except in the case of one company, where the privates' wardrobes had been pitiably depleted. But the company-sergeant, who knew the state of affairs, rose to the occasion.

"Orders must be obeyed!" said he. "Let the men change shirts with one another."

It's called "FUSSY"

Krazy Kat

Copyright, 1916, International News Service. Registered U. S. Patent Office.

TROUBLE
THE WORLD IS FULL OF IT.
WHERE DOES DID IT COMMENCE?
"EVE" STARTED IT, I HEAR.
HOW COME?
BY EATING AN APPLE!
MUSTA BEEN A VERY "GREEN" ONE.
NO DOUBT
AND WE'VE BEEN "BLUE" EVER SINCE.

BARON BEAN

Oh, Well, Vacations, Like Rattlesnakes, Must End Somewhere

WELL, 'GRIMES' TWO WEEKS AGO, WE STARTED TO SPEND OUR "VACATION" IN THE CITY, WITH A PAIR OF $2.40 = RAVING IN MANY WAYS! BOTH THE VACATION, AND THE $2.40, I MUST SAY I'M GLAD IT'S OVER. ANY "YOU"?
YES, YOUR WORSHIP, HE MUST VIBU WITH GLADNESS THE SAD MUTABLE, AND INCOUSTANT PROCLIVITIES OF VACATIONS, AND $2.40
KAPLOP
OH SIR, OH SIR, YOUR POOR HEAD!"
I SEEA THAT-FLOWER- BUT OF YOURS LIGHT ON THE "BEAT'S BEAN," JERRY SO Y'D BETTER SETTLE WITH HIM, PRETTY PRONTO--
WILL $2.40 CHEER YOU UP ANY?
YOU BET IT WILL-
NOW I KNOW THAT MONEY CIRCULATES
"GUNNER" SEE WHO'S AT THE DOOR
COMIC ART DEPT.

ABIE THE AGENT

Copyright, 1916, International News Service—Registered United States Patent Office.

This Makes It Look As If the Odds Were Against Abie

TRY YOUR LUCK—CIGARETTE SHOOTING GALLERY!
I'M GOING TO TRY THAT, MEYER—YOU KNOW, ITS A AIR RIFLE GUN, WITH A CORK BULLET—ANY BOXES CIGARETTES WHAT YOU SHOOT OFF BELONGS TO YOU YOUR PROPERTEH
NIX, ABE! THE PERCENTAGE IS AGAINST YOU—YOURE WASTING GOOD DOUGH
ABE, THE WISE GUY—YOUVE SHOT AWAY FIVE DOLLARS ALREADY AND YOU HAVENT KNOCKED OFF A BOX YET
BY GOLLEH, MEYER—MEYER, I KNOCKED DOWN A PECK CIGARETTES!
A BOX OF ALI BABIS FOR THE GENTLEMAN!
I DONT LIKE THIS BREND I WON—IF I HENDLE IT BECK TO YOU, HOW MANY SHOTS WILL YOU GIVE ME FOR IT?
AS MANY AS YOU LIKE!

JERRY ON THE JOB

Copyright, 1916, International News Service—Registered United States Patent Office.

'S No Use Trying to Foil a Skirt; 'S No Use at All

NUTHINGS DOING—YOUNT RIDE IN THIS HERE CAB WITH A DOG. AGAINST RULE 28.
BUT "DOODLES" AND I SIMPLY MUST GET TO "NEW MONIA" FOR THE DOG SHOW.
WELL, RULE 28 SAYS—NO HUMAN BEANS CAN RIDE IN THE CAB WITH DOGS—THAT'S ALL—THEY DON'T ARK.
IS "ITTLE "DOODLES" NICE AND COMFY IN THERE WIFF ALL 'DA CUSHIONS?

POLLY AND HER PALS

Copyright, 1916, Newspaper Feature Service, Inc.—Registered U. S. Patent Office. Great Britain Rights Reserved.

Sometimes They Do, and Sometimes They Don't

WHATLL SHE DO, JACK, SIXTY?
SIXTY? WHY MY DEAR POLLY, SHE'LL DO NINETY MILES AN' HOUR UP HILL AND DOWN!
'S'NO USE TALKIN' ALL AUTOMOBEELERS IS LIARS!
SEE IF THATS A MOTOR-CYCLE COP TRAILING US WILL YOU?
THATS WHAT IT IS, JACK AND HE'S SIGNALING YOU TO STOP!
Y'MEAN T'SAY I WAS DOIN' THIRTY MILES AN' HOUR, OFFICER?
THATS WOT I SAID!!
BUT MY DEAR OFFICER THIS OLD BUSS COULDN'T DO OVER FIFTEEN MILES AN HOUR WHEN SHE WAS NEW!
I TOLD YOU SO, FOLKS!
Cliff Sterrett

U.S. BOYS

Registered U. S. Patent Office.

Skinny Knows Himself

AGENTS OF U. S. CHECK WHEAT IN STORAGE

By International News Service.

Chicago, Aug. 12—Confident that the federal authorities have an investigation under way to determine if there has been manipulation in the present anti-trust statute in the price of wheat, has revealed the fact that agents for the department of justice for some time have been checking up the wheat in storage in the west.

Messages sent by Hilton, O. Caldwell, chief investigator for the department of justice, to Washington, indicate that the government may request that wheat be released from storage to the extent of 15,750,000 bushels of wheat from this city, Minneapolis, Duluth, Kansas City and Omaha, it was learned today.

The unusually small bread consumption is given as the reason for the request. Approximately 50,000,000 bushels can be exported without endangering the home supply, according to these investigators.

United States District Attorney Clyne, who is conducting the investigation, has been in communication with the situation and a meeting was held between Armed Forces. Wheat bankers declare the wheat held at the present time is not for speculation, but is held by the owners who are farmers and they expect to get better prices and therefore are not selling their profit in the future on the larger yield.

WILSON TO STUMP TO BEAT HUGHES

By International News Service.

Washington, Aug. 12—President Wilson will make a whirlwind tour of the West during the remainder of his itinerary will take him to most of the principal cities in the Rockies. It has been decided by the democratic advisers that the strenuous campaign that the President has planned will take the strain.

The President will be 30 hours behind his schedule when he reaches Omaha, and all directed by the national advisory committee, but he will not be known before that the Democratic leaders have decided to make a campaign for party votes.

Close friends of the President said today that he was determined upon the legislative achievements of the Democratic party and the Hitchcock Pro-Peace, progressive measure in particular. He will also speak in detail the charges made by Mr. Hughes.

DRIVER ATTACKED AS MAN IS HIT

Edward Abramson of the Hancock Clothing Co. has driven a car that struck injured by an automobile while crossing Winter street shortly before midnight.

The automobile, it is said, was crossing Washington street ahead of Perry Locke as he was Locke, who was driving pedestrians gathered, and it was thought that the driver would receive rough treatment at their hands.

Several cops responded to the calling board in an effort to get at the driver and one man identified the driver's car by the top of a woman's hat sticking out of the window. The auto was stopped on the Tufts side of Washington street by Officer Harkins.

AMBASSADOR PAGE BACK FROM LONDON

New York, Aug. 12—Walter Hines Page, United States ambassador to Great Britain, arrived here today on the steamship Lusitania from Liverpool to confer with the American state department and President Wilson on the European situation.

The ambassador is expected to remain in Washington probably a week.

COLLEGE BOY TO STAY IN MILITIA

Hale Post Cole, a student at Harvard College, president of Norwich University, has received word from Washington that he will be appointed a captain in the United States army. It is expected that duty shortly. He was highly recommended by his commanding officer and entered the first camp.

Norwich University was founded in 1819 and is the oldest military college in the country. Its graduates have served in American wars. Secretary Garrison is also a graduate of the school.

CAMBRIDGE TAX RATE NOW $23.50

The Cambridge tax rate, which has been going up for the past three years, has increased $1.50 for the present year. This is a jump of 50 cents over last year.

Increased municipal expenses and a decrease in the valuation of property are the cause are the chief reasons given by the tax rate, according to a statement by the assessors.

PREPARE BERTH FOR BREMEN IN NEW YORK

New York, Aug. 12—Persistent rumors in shipping circles that the German submersible merchantman Deutschland is preparing to make another trip across the Atlantic was rather followed by the discovery that one of the North German Lloyd merchant ships at Hoboken had been fitted with a berth for the cargo which the Bremen could be berthed.

The Deutschland is expected to arrive in this country about the middle of September.

The Deutschland, who was owned by the Krupp interests of Germany, is reported to be a private ship.

London, Aug. 12—No confirmation could be secured in official circles in the ministry of a report that the Bremen had been sunk by a British warship.

The admiralty official merely replied that no news of the submersible's safe construction had been received at the admiralty.

While the impression has been given that the Bremen has left for the German capital, it is believed that she would not be more than 24 hours in the harbor of the Germans are fast clearing ships from the harbor for fear of the British.

It was the opinion of the shipping men that if she might be taken as an indication of the safety of the trip of the German subs, the efforts of the Bremen

CHURCH NEWS OF GREATER BOSTON

400 ON MAGRANE HOUSTON OUTING

More than 400 members of the Houston Business society held their annual outing at the Brandon Hall, Dorchester.

Ten big automobiles carried the employees from the main to Brandon Hall, where dinner was served at the hall from 12:30 until 1 o'clock.

Among the events were baseball, 50-yard dash for men, 50-yard dash for women, potato race for men and women, 100-yard dash for men, tug of war between work and office forces and a quoit pitching contest. Prizes were awarded to the winners in the various events.

Among the committee of the reception were the president and the staff, Miss Mary Houston, Miss Mary Houston and Miss Houston.

An automobile is to stop through the streets of Boston and the cars will be driven by members of the staff and officers of the organization. The route is to be announced later.

The committees for the outing comprise the following: General, J. F. Fitzgibbon, chairman, and Miss Mary Hanlon, correspondence, Miss Mary Houston, chairman, and Miss Mary Houston; refreshments, P. M. O'Connell, chairman, and Miss Mary Houston and Miss Houston; prizes, Miss Fred Harkins.

DEMOCRATS IN FIGHT OVER INCOME TAX

By International News Service.

Washington, Aug. 12—A split in the democratic forces in the senate and a contest over the form of the amendment to the income tax provision revenue bill today confronted democratic leaders in the senate.

The complete bill, as revised by the democratic finance committee, was before the senate today. Democratic senators developed several sharp differences of opinion over the income tax, but the situation was relieved when Senator Simmons, democrat, North Carolina, withdrew his recommendations that the income tax be increased from 1 per cent to 2 per cent on the surplus of all annual incomes over $20,000 and 2 per cent on the surplus of all incomes above $1,000,000 a year, as contemplated by the bill as originally drawn. The increase would have been added to the 1 per cent normal tax, thus placing a graduated tax on the net receipts of all taxable persons.

The democratic leaders planned to report the bill to the senate not later than $2,000,000 from 12 per cent.

There were pending, however, both the democratic and republican sides of the senate, amendments to increase the inheritance tax from 1 per cent to 2 per cent.

BEATEN AND ROBBED ON BOAT FROM N. Y.

New London, Ct., Aug. 12—George B. Hall, a wealthy manufacturer of the steamer Chester W. Chapin, from New York to this city, was beaten and robbed of $1,000 in cash and a diamond ring valued at $1,000 by a stranger, with whom Clark shared a stateroom on the steamer, it is said. The stranger escaped.

TRAVEL GUIDE
NEW YORK $2.95
COLONIAL LINE 399 Wash. St. Boston
BAY STATE LINE NEW YORK $2.50
Via Trolley and Boat, $2.50
STATEROOMS, $1.00 to $2.00.
Hall Steamship Co., Pier 3, Boston.
Ticket Office, 311 Washington St., Boston.

Summer Cottages

WESTFIELD—Furnished cottages of four and six rooms and to let on Lake Montgomery; rent reasonable. Apply to owner, 15 Kenwood st., Westfield.

WEST NEWTON—Furnished cottage, 7 rooms and bath, to let on Lake Waban; rent reasonable. Apply to owner, 15 Kenwood st., Newton.

Schools and Colleges.

SCHOOL OF PRACTICAL ELECTRICITY
Students become electrical experts in 3 months. Day and evening classes. Catalog free.
HOWARD ELECTRICAL SCHOOL, 11 Huntington Ave., Boston, Mass.

Sunday Church Services

A LIST OF CHURCHES THAT EXTEND A HAND OF FELLOWSHIP TO YOU

Baptist.

TREMONT TEMPLE BAPTIST CHURCH, Tremont st., Boston. Rev. Robert A. MacKillop, D. D., Minister. Rev. Robert A. MacKillop, D. D., will preach at 10:30 a. m. and 7:30 p. m. Sunday school at 12 m. Prayer meeting at 7:30 p. m. Thursday. All are welcome.

Christian Scientist.

THE FIRST CHURCH OF CHRIST, SCIENTIST, The Mother Church, Falmouth, Norway and Huntington sts., Boston. Sunday service at 10:45 a. m. and 7:30 p. m. Sunday School at 12 m. Wednesday evening meeting at 7:30 o'clock.

Congregationalist.

PILGRIM CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH, Dudley st., near Washington st., Roxbury. Rev. Albert Lincoln Gale, pastor. Sunday services at 10:45 a. m. and 7:30 p. m. Sunday School at 12 m. Prayer meeting at 7:30 p. m. Thursday.

Miscellaneous.

WALTER DeVOE

HIGHER THOUGHT SERVICES, Boston Theosophical Society, Room 1, Pierce Building, Copley sq. Sunday services at 11 a. m. and 7:30 p. m. Wednesday meeting at 8 p. m.

HIGHER THOUGHT SERVICES, Boston Theosophical Society, Room 1, Pierce Building, Copley sq. Sunday services at 11 a. m. and 7:30 p. m. Wednesday meeting at 8 p. m.

J. B. S. A.—Boston Branch.

INTERNATIONAL BIBLE STUDENTS ASSOCIATION. Tremont Temple, Tremont st., Boston. Sunday services at 10:45 a. m. and 7:30 p. m. Subject: "Who the Gods; What is Life?" Sunday School at 12 m. Wednesday evening meeting at 7:30 o'clock.

STOCKS AND INVESTMENTS

By W. H. ROSS, Financial Editor

Stocks were rather weak in New York at the close, copper being an exception as well as steel. United States Rubber and American Smelting. They reflected great European demand for metals. These issues and the specialties in the copper group made rather fractionally lower on account of sale reports as to the labor situation.

GENERAL LAWS AND LOSSES.

Closing gains included American Can, 1; Baldwin Locomotive, 1; Beth. Steel, 1%; Chino Ut., Inspiration 1½, Kennecott, 1; Lackawanna Steel, 1; Republic Iron & Steel, 1; Sloss Sheffield Steel, 1; Studebaker, 1; Texas Co., 1; Union Pacific, 1; United States Steel, 1; Utah Copper, 1; Westinghouse, 1; Industrial Alcohol, 1; Mexican Petroleum, 1.

Among declines were American Locomotive, 1; Am. Sugar, 1; Am. Tel. & Tel., 1; Anaconda, 1; Atchison, 1; Central Leather, 1; Lackawanna, 1; Mexican Petroleum, 1; Pennsylvania, 1; Reading, 1; Southern Pacific, 1; Union Pacific, 1; Westinghouse, 1; Industrial Alcohol, 1; Mexican Petroleum, 1.

NEW YORK STOCKS.

Stocks arranged alphabetically and quoted

	Sales	Open	High	Low	Close
Allis-Chalmers	1,000	30	30	30	30
Am. Beet Sugar	1,000	50	50	50	50
Am. Can	1,000	50	50	50	50
Am. Car & Foundry	1,000	50	50	50	50
Am. Cotton Oil	1,000	50	50	50	50
Am. Ice Securities	1,000	50	50	50	50
Am. Locomotive	1,000	50	50	50	50
Am. Smelting & Refining	1,000	50	50	50	50
Am. Sugar Refining	1,000	50	50	50	50
Am. Tel. & Tel.	1,000	50	50	50	50
Am. Tobacco	1,000	50	50	50	50
Anaconda Copper	1,000	50	50	50	50
Atchison	1,000	50	50	50	50
Atlantic Coast Line	1,000	50	50	50	50
Baltimore & Ohio	1,000	50	50	50	50
Bethlehem Steel	1,000	50	50	50	50
Brooklyn Rapid Transit	1,000	50	50	50	50
Canadian Pacific	1,000	50	50	50	50
Central Leather	1,000	50	50	50	50
Chesapeake & Ohio	1,000	50	50	50	50
Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul	1,000	50	50	50	50
Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific	1,000	50	50	50	50
Colorado Fuel & Iron	1,000	50	50	50	50
Consolidated Gas	1,000	50	50	50	50
Corn Products	1,000	50	50	50	50
Crucible Steel	1,000	50	50	50	50
Delaware & Hudson	1,000	50	50	50	50
Delaware, Lackawanna & Western	1,000	50	50	50	50
Denver & Rio Grande	1,000	50	50	50	50
Distillers' Securities	1,000	50	50	50	50
Erie	1,000	50	50	50	50
General Electric	1,000	50	50	50	50
Great Northern Ore	1,000	50	50	50	50
Great Northern Pfd.	1,000	50	50	50	50
Illinois Central	1,000	50	50	50	50
Interborough-Metropolitan	1,000	50	50	50	50
Interborough-Metropolitan Pfd.	1,000	50	50	50	50
International Harvester	1,000	50	50	50	50
International Paper	1,000	50	50	50	50
Kansas City Southern	1,000	50	50	50	50
Kansas City Southern Pfd.	1,000	50	50	50	50
Lehigh Valley	1,000	50	50	50	50
Louisville & Nashville	1,000	50	50	50	50
Missouri Pacific	1,000	50	50	50	50
National Biscuit	1,000	50	50	50	50
National Lead	1,000	50	50	50	50
New York Central	1,000	50	50	50	50
New York, New Haven & Hartford	1,000	50	50	50	50
Norfolk & Western	1,000	50	50	50	50
Northern Pacific	1,000	50	50	50	50
Pacific Mail	1,000	50	50	50	50
Pennsylvania	1,000	50	50	50	50
Pittsburgh Coal	1,000	50	50	50	50
Pittsburgh Coal Pfd.	1,000	50	50	50	50
Pressed Steel Car	1,000	50	50	50	50
Pullman Palace Car	1,000	50	50	50	50
Reading	1,000	50	50	50	50
Republic Iron & Steel	1,000	50	50	50	50
Republic Iron & Steel Pfd.	1,000	50	50	50	50
Rock Island Co.	1,000	50	50	50	50
Rock Island Co. Pfd.	1,000	50	50	50	50
Southern Pacific	1,000	50	50	50	50
Southern Railway	1,000	50	50	50	50
Southern Railway Pfd.	1,000	50	50	50	50
Studebaker	1,000	50	50	50	50
Texas Co.	1,000	50	50	50	50
Third Avenue	1,000	50	50	50	50
Union Pacific	1,000	50	50	50	50
United States Rubber	1,000	50	50	50	50
United States Steel	1,000	50	50	50	50
United States Steel Pfd.	1,000	50	50	50	50
Utah Copper	1,000	50	50	50	50
Virginia-Carolina Chemical	1,000	50	50	50	50
Virginia-Carolina Chemical Pfd.	1,000	50	50	50	50
Wabash	1,000	50	50	50	50
Wabash Pfd. A	1,000	50	50	50	50
Western Union	1,000	50	50	50	50
Westinghouse	1,000	50	50	50	50
Wheeling & Lake Erie	1,000	50	50	50	50
Wheeling & Lake Erie Pfd.	1,000	50	50	50	50
Wisconsin Central	1,000	50	50	50	50

BOSTON STOCKS.

Stocks exchanged today are quoted

	Sales	Open	High	Low	Close
Adventure	100	5	5	5	5
Ahmeek	100	50	50	50	50
Allouez	100	30	30	30	30
Amalgamated Copper	100	70	70	70	70
American Agricultural Chemical	100	50	50	50	50
American Agricultural Chemical Pfd.	100	50	50	50	50
American Beet Sugar	100	50	50	50	50
American Can	100	50	50	50	50
American Car & Foundry	100	50	50	50	50
American Cotton Oil	100	50	50	50	50
American Ice Securities	100	50	50	50	50
American Locomotive	100	50	50	50	50
American Smelting & Refining	100	50	50	50	50
American Sugar Refining	100	50	50	50	50
American Tel. & Tel.	100	50	50	50	50
American Tobacco	100	50	50	50	50
Anaconda Copper	100	50	50	50	50
Atchison	100	50	50	50	50
Atlantic Coast Line	100	50	50	50	50
Baltimore & Ohio	100	50	50	50	50
Bethlehem Steel	100	50	50	50	50
Brooklyn Rapid Transit	100	50	50	50	50
Canadian Pacific	100	50	50	50	50
Central Leather	100	50	50	50	50
Chesapeake & Ohio	100	50	50	50	50
Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul	100	50	50	50	50
Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific	100	50	50	50	50
Colorado Fuel & Iron	100	50	50	50	50
Consolidated Gas	100	50	50	50	50
Corn Products	100	50	50	50	50
Crucible Steel	100	50	50	50	50
Delaware & Hudson	100	50	50	50	50
Delaware, Lackawanna & Western	100	50	50	50	50
Denver & Rio Grande	100	50	50	50	50
Distillers' Securities	100	50	50	50	50
Erie	100	50	50	50	50
General Electric	100	50	50	50	50
Great Northern Ore	100	50	50	50	50
Great Northern Pfd.	100	50	50	50	50
Illinois Central	100	50	50	50	50
Interborough-Metropolitan	100	50	50	50	50
Interborough-Metropolitan Pfd.	100	50	50	50	50
International Harvester	100	50	50	50	50
International Paper	100	50	50	50	50
Kansas City Southern	100	50	50	50	50
Kansas City Southern Pfd.	100	50	50	50	50
Lehigh Valley	100	50	50	50	50
Louisville & Nashville	100	50	50	50	50
Missouri Pacific	100	50	50	50	50
National Biscuit	100	50	50	50	50
National Lead	100	50	50	50	50
New York Central	100	50	50	50	50
New York, New Haven & Hartford	100	50	50	50	50
Norfolk & Western	100	50	50	50	50
Northern Pacific	100	50	50	50	50
Pacific Mail	100	50	50	50	50
Pennsylvania	100	50	50	50	50
Pittsburgh Coal	100	50	50	50	50
Pittsburgh Coal Pfd.	100	50	50	50	50
Pressed Steel Car	100	50	50	50	50
Pullman Palace Car	100	50	50	50	50
Reading	100	50	50	50	50
Republic Iron & Steel	100	50	50	50	50
Republic Iron & Steel Pfd.	100	50	50	50	50
Rock Island Co.	100	50	50	50	50
Rock Island Co. Pfd.	100	50	50	50	50
Southern Pacific	100	50	50	50	50
Southern Railway	100	50	50	50	50
Southern Railway Pfd.	100	50	50	50	50
Studebaker	100	50	50	50	50
Texas Co.	100	50	50	50	50
Third Avenue	100	50	50	50	50
Union Pacific	100	50	50	50	50
United States Rubber	100	50	50	50	50
United States Steel	100	50	50	50	50
United States Steel Pfd.	100	50	50	50	50
Utah Copper	100	50	50	50	50
Virginia-Carolina Chemical	100	50	50	50	50
Virginia-Carolina Chemical Pfd.	100	50	50	50	50
Wabash	100	50	50	50	50
Wabash Pfd. A	100	50	50	50	50
Western Union	100	50	50	50	50
Westinghouse	100	50	50	50	50
Wheeling & Lake Erie	100	50	50	50	50
Wheeling & Lake Erie Pfd.	100	50	50	50	50
Wisconsin Central	100	50	50	50	50

Real Estate—Miscellaneous.

Shore Lots
$30 to $130
MORSES POND GROVE
WELLESLEY
FREE EXCURSIONS

Real Estate—Miscellaneous.

Ocean View Manor
So Fare REVERE So Fare
House Lots $250 and upwards
Values are Steadily Rising

Farm Near Boston Markets

Real Estate—Miscellaneous.

$3000
WOLLASTON

Real Estate Mortgages.

MORTGAGE

Apartments—Belmont.

Apartments—Brighton.

Apartments—Brookline.

Apartments—Charlestown.

Apartments—Dorchester

Real Estate—Allston.

Real Estate—Belmont.

Real Estate—Dorchester.

Apartments—Medford.

Real Estate—Jamaica Plain.

Real Estate—Medford.

Real Estate—Quincy.

Real Estate—Revere.

Real Estate—Roslindale

Real Estate—Roxbury.

Apartments—Somerville.

Apartments—South Boston.

Apartments—South End.

Real Estate—Somerville.

Apartments—West Roxbury.

Apartments—Winthrop.

Real Estate—West End.

Real Estate—West Roxbury.

Real Estate—Winthrop.

Furnished Apartments.

Apartments—Miscellaneous.

Apartments Wanted.

Male Help Wanted.

Shoe Workers! Attention!!!

Shoe workers are advised that the strike existing at the Victoria Shoe Co. of East Boston is one involving only a limited number of the employes, and was ordered by an independent faction in the shoe trade not recognized by the American Federation of Labor, and said strike was ordered July 28, 1916, after the Victoria Shoe Co. had made application for the Union Stamp of the Boot and Shoe Workers' Union, on July 27, 1916, and evidently for the purpose of preventing the successful organizing of the factory by the union affiliated with the American Federation of Labor.

Shoe workers, members of the Boot and Shoe Workers' Union, and others who are willing to join, are advised that the wearing of employment in this factory has the approval of the Boot and Shoe Workers' Union, the only organization affiliated with and recognized by the American Federation of Labor.

BOOT AND SHOE WORKERS' UNION
Local No. 229.
By Charles Holmes, President.
Frank E. Cook, Secretary.

WANTED
A Good Loom-Fixer
at once. Steady work.
BURRILL & CLARK,
Corinna, Maine.

9 AUTO LESSONS—$5
Bradley Motor School

12 AUTO LESSONS, $10

WANTED
First-Class Toolmakers
BOSTON AUTO SCHOOL,

AUTOMOBILE SCHOOL,

FLAT VAMPERS

BRICKLAYERS

WOODWORKERS

Upholsterer Wanted

Bricklayers Wanted

Machine Shop Help

LICENSED INSIDE WIREMAN

PAPER BOX SORTER

BRICKLAYERS
WANTED,

RUBBER SPREADERS

LITHO FEEDERS

Furnished Rooms—Brookline.

Furnished Rooms—Cambridge.

Furnished Rooms—Charlestown.

CASTLE SQUARE HOTEL
EUROPEAN PLAN
Tremont, Chandler and Berkeley Sts.
Long-Distance Telephone in Each Room

EVERY ROOM HAS A PRIVATE BATHROOM

Furnished Rooms—Roxbury.

Furnished Rooms—Somerville.

Furnished Rooms—Back Bay.

Furnished Rooms—South End.

Furnished Rooms—Miscellaneous.

HOTEL ECHO

Furnished Rooms—Suburban.

Furnished Rooms—West Roxbury.

Furnished Rooms—Winthrop.

Clothing.

FIRE SALE

CLOTHING

MARKS & CHESTER
The Wage Earners' Friend

Women's Specialties.

SKIRTS

Music.

PIANOS TUNED, $1

RAGTIME Taught in 6 Lessons

Business Opportunities.

FOR SALE.

Typewriters.

Furniture.

Patents.

C. S. GOODING

PATENTS

Refrigerators.

Piano and Musical Instruments.

PIANO
Clearance Sale
AT THE
Henry F. Miller
Piano Warerooms
395 BOYLSTON ST.

Used Cars and Accessories.

$265—Light 5-Passenger

Automobiles for Hire.

Printing.

Machinery and Tools.

75 TONS OF RADIATORS

Lost and Found.

Found by the Police.

DEATHS

TUOHY

The nation which indulges toward another an habitual hatred or an habitual fondness is in some degree a slave.—WASHINGTON'S FAREWELL ADDRESS.

TRUTH, JUSTICE BOSTON AMERICAN EDITORIAL PAGE PUBLIC SERVICE

Saturday, August 12, 1916

The Baby Plague Is at Our Gates—What Are We Going to Do About It?

IT is reported that there are now more cases of baby plague in two of our leading Massachusetts cities in proportion to their population than there are in New York City!

Consider the dread significance of that fact. The plague has spread into Massachusetts from New York. Soon it will spread from town to town in Massachusetts. Soon it will be in YOUR neighborhood—perhaps in your child.

Such plagues reach their zenith in the middle of September. What are we doing about it? What do we propose to do about it? Shall we lock the barn door after the horse is stolen? Shall we begin to do SOMETHING when the whole State is in the grip of this horrid disease?

However little we know about this baby plague, we do know this positively—it can be stopped by quarantine.

Already in Connecticut many towns are protecting themselves by quarantine. This one effective method of protection may interrupt business somewhat somewhere, but is not your child worth all the business in the world to you?

Appointment of Justice Brandeis to Mexican Commission

THE AMERICAN does not know the general attitude of Mr. Brandeis toward the Mexican situation, but it does know his disinterested patriotism and capacity to separate facts from fiction and give every fact its proper relation and proportion in the work which the Mexican Commission will have to do. These faculties of Mr. Brandeis will be invaluable to the country.

This appointment by the President of Mr. Brandeis on the Mexican Commission shows how important the President regarded a place on the Supreme Court. It also shows that in selecting Mr. Brandeis for the Supreme Court he made the very best selection he could make without regard to politics, for he is now entrusting, in a large measure, his political fortunes and his reputation as a statesman to the hands of Mr. Brandeis as a member of this commission.

"What Can Be Squeezed Out of the Little Man?"

That Is the Big Question in the Big Man's Mind

Copyright, 1916, Star Company

"Make the Little Man Pay."

THAT is the cry of statesmen, corporation attorneys and others as they contemplate the new income tax bill.

They are afraid that it will injure the little man's PATRIOTISM if you do not make him pay a tax on his little income.

They say: "Even if a man HAS only two thousand

COUSIN WILLIE

Copyright, 1916, International News Service

He and the Sheriff Are Running a Great Race for the Widow's Hand.

Mr. Opper's work appears regularly in animated cartoons in the International Film Service

THE WIDOW JONES HAS GOT HER LAWN MOWER OUT IN THE YARD. I KNOW WHAT THAT MEANS. IT WILLIE OR I CALL ON HER. SHALL AX WHOEVER COMES FIRST TO CUT THE GRASS IT'S GOING TO BE WILLIE!
WILLIE IF I MARRY THE WIDOW JONES I WANT YOU TO BE MY BEST MAN
BEST MAN NOTHING! I'LL PROPOSE TO HER MYSELF RIGHT NOW!
OH MR WILLIE, WON'T YOU DO ME A FAVOR AND CUT MY GRASS? YOURE ALWAYS SO OBLIGING.
HELLO WILLIE SEE YOURE WORKING. THAT'S FINE EXERCISE
MRS JONES YOU'D MAKE A BEAUTIFUL BRIDE
STOP YOUR JOKING SMEARS
I'LL FIX HIM FOR THIS! JUST WAIT!
F. Opper

The Excursion

By William F. Kirk

IT was very hot and humid
And up in the sky of blue 'mid
Fleecy clouds the August sun was glaring down,
When a fat and fussy lady
Left her dwelling cool and shady
For a journey to a Summer-boarding town.
'Twas away up in the hills
Far from silly fads and frills,
And according to the booklet it was swell.
All plain food without a trimming
And a lovely place for swimming,
And the dearest and the queerest old hotel!

Full of prickly heat, and longing
For a rest from fuss and thronging,
Went the fat and fussy lady with her fleet,
And her fleet was simply oodles
Of canary birds and poodles,
Which she took along to have a little treat.
On the trip she felt so happy
That she beamed upon a chappie
Who appeared to be an entertaining soul,
And she chatted might and main
With the porter on the train
Who was interested much in berth control.

She could very promptly tell

"Land Seasickness" and How to Avoid It

By Woods Hutchinson, M. D.

The World's Best Known Writer on Medical Subjects

PART ONE

THE thought of travel has always carried with it a spice of danger, a thrill of adventure, and, although enough of the latter is left to give a touch of excitement, the former has been tempered down almost to the vanishing point in these modern days, save in the madhouse of war.

For us little risk remains save car-sickness, change of water, lunch counter eggs and bullet-proof sandwiches, and the one-in-a-million chance of train wreck. Yet we still talk gravely of the risks to our health when we travel. The most serious risk of all that we run is a negative one, the exercise that we don't get.

One of the commonest complaints of those who travel is of disturbances, as they believe, of the stomach and bowels, with or without headache, variously described as evidence of and reports from our different senses. The widest disagreement is between our eyes and what might be termed our ears, i. e., certain delicate semi-circular canals connected with the internal ear near the base of our brain, one of which runs in each of three dimensions, so as to act as a kind of spirit level in that plane.

To put it very roughly, our eyes, looking out of the car window, assure us that the scenery is flying backward, while our semi-circular canals, with equal positiveness, assert that, we are dashing rapidly forward and also swaying strongly from side to side. The result is a hopeless case of internal squint, or mental cross-eyedness; and as the stomach is the most sympathetic organ in the body it begins to take a part in the game and we become either sick at our stomach, bilious or constipated, or Artist Moynahan, Gentlemen, Also Paid a Visit to the Fifth, Eighth and Ninth at Camp Cotton!

You Saw His Sketches of the Battery A Boys Last Sunday. These, in Tomorrow's Sunday AMERICAN, Are Even Better. Not to Mention Maine's Remarkable Campaign Document—and Other Interesting Matters.

You who were born under a lucky star saw Artist Moynahan's sketches of the Battery A boys in last Sunday's AMERICAN, and you read what he had to say about them. And after having a few stitches taken in your sides—for they were literally side-splitting—you wiped the tears of joy from your eyes and sighed and said:

"Well, a treat like that comes only once in a lifetime!"

But you were wrong; for another is coming—funnier than ever. You will see, for instance—

How Dutch Mahan's home run upset Colonel Logan and the other officers and put the Glooms in the Michigan camp.

How the Eighth Regiment Choral Society made the Mexicans sick of the horrors of war.

Why the soldiers bayonet every load of hay that crosses the border, and what the Chinaman thinks of it.

How the Officers' Club of the Ninth drives dull care away at meal times.

How Lieutenant Walter Austin crossed the border against his will—and the boundary post.

How George Robinson's canoe paddle came in handy.

How Lieutenant William Avery started his cabaret.

How Major Donovan's mule balked till the tomato soup was served—

And many other things of surprising interest.

There is a campaign under way in Maine, even if there is none under way south of the border.

Quadrennially, Maine steps into the limelight, bows, goes through its bag of political tricks, and on the appointed day casts its votes for State officers. It casts its vote on other years; but it is in presidential years that Maine shines.

For then, since the election comes two months before the presidential balloting, Maine is given a key position; and both parties strive for the victory as a good augury.

One Frederick Hale is a candidate for United States Senator on the Republican ticket there. Someone—'tis a dark secret, mates—has issued a campaign document for him. Mr. Hale does not like this document. It is entitled: "American Statesmen Series, No. 8512-W. Frederick Hale. A Biographical Sketch."

But the reading matter! Ah, yes, the reading matter! There's the rub.

Now Mr. Hale and his Republican allies are wondering what sort of a vote-swinger Satire is.

All about it, gentlemen, in the Sunday AMERICAN.

The License Board.

The centre of the tempest.

Boston is the teapot, and the tempest in the teapot centres about the Excise Board.

Shall it be investigated? Shall it be reformed? Shall it be abolished? Was there an iniquitous bargain? If so, why? If not, why the strange, subsequent manifestations?

These questions have been asked, and others, even more sinister.

The fight is just begun; it is a prime topic in Boston. The Sunday AMERICAN will discuss the situation from all angles—together with the latest developments in the tempest.

Billy Sunday is coming; everyone is interested. And the AMERICAN tomorrow, Sunday, will have some new aspects of the Sunday work for your consideration.

Did you know, for instance, that beef stew is the favorite dish of the Sunday converts?

It is. The fact is worth pondering. Also many other facts which will be faithfully presented to you in the Sunday AMERICAN in this connection.

All of us are artists, in sensibilities if not in performances.

Not one of us but trembles before the work of a great artist, whether it be the trumpet song from "Aida," the graceful torso of the Venus of Milo, the Madonnas of the Renaissance masters, or merely the splendid work of highly developed modern photography.

There is reproduced in the Sunday AMERICAN a photograph that deserves to rank as an artistic masterpiece.

Overhead, the moon glows. Under foot, shallow waters ripple over sand. And in the foreground, seven feminine figures, scantily clad, lift up their arms as though in tribute to the moon.

The photograph in itself is notable; the subject matter is particularly interesting. Modern exponents of the dance have found that nowhere can they find such rhythmic beauty, such perfect composition, as in Nature's handiwork. The sea gull, the curving crests of the waves, the long swell of the sands, these are the models for